Too Many Chiefs

Q. Our North Community YMCA Indian Guides are planning an induction ceremony and we are short of funds. Can you obtain costumes for nine Indian chiefs, two medicine men and three regular Indian outfits to make our ceremony more realistic for our 23 little braves? G.S., Long Beach.

A. Your powwow should be a howling success, thanks to Clare Johnson, general manager of the Long Beach YMCA. He promises all the needed costumes will be ready for you in time for the induction ceremony.

Relatively Speaking

Q. Recently, I started to trace my family history. I found out that my grandfather was a cousin of Dallas Mason Cate. I've been told Cate was on the Long Beach City Council sometime between 1901 to 1916. Where could I get information on his term in office? Mrs. W.C., Long Beach.

A. When D.M. Cate came to Long Beach in 1900, he went right into politics. He served as a member of the city Board of Trustees which functioned at a city council, from 1902 to 1906, becoming president toward the end of that period. In 1912, he served as a city councilman. Information on his term in office can be found in the handwritten "Record Book for the Board of Trustees," available at the Long Beach City Clerk's Office, 205 W. Broadway. If you contact Mrs. Elaine Hamilton at the office, she'll arrange for you to see the book. Articles in The Long Beach Press of that period indicate Cate was a candidate of the Citizens Party in 1902. One of the party's platforms was to promote the return of saloons to Long Beach. The Press supported the Independent Municipal Party and the Citizens Party didn't seem to get much favorable coverage. Despite the handicap, the Citizens Party won the election, with Cate getting 379 votes. On April 21, 1902, he was sworn into office by City Atty. A.C. Lawson. One of his first moves was to report that the marshal had been using a livery stable as a stock pound and that he should find a proper location. Cate later became known as a watchdog over city finances. A 1904 issue of The Long Beach Press tells of a meeting of the board in which the public works department reported it had found an expert willing to estimate the cost of an electrical lighting plant for a fee of $200. Cate was opposed to wasting so much money on advice.

At Sea

Q. Could ACTION LINE find out for me when the USS Hornet is due back from her Vietnam tour? Mrs. B.W., Long Beach.

A. No. The Navy says the movements of its ships are strictly classified information. However, you may call 832-5333; which is the Naval Ship Information Office; for general information on ships. Navy ship arrivals from the Western Pacific normally are announced several days before the vessels are expected to reach home port.

Hearing Bells

Q. Is there a specific doctor, clinic or research center which is doing research on the various causes of and remedies for constant ringing in the ears? K.M.M., Long Beach.

A. The causes and remedies for tinnitus (noise in the ears) is not being investigated specifically at this time at either UCLA Medical School, according to Dr. Donald Dirks, associate professor of head and neck surgery; or by USC, says Dr. Victor Garwood, chairman of the program in communicative disorders and director of the Hearing and Speech Department there. The causes are elusive, says Dr. Dirks, but it is not unusual for those with hearing loss to experience tinnitus and it may fluctuate with fatigue. It may sound like cracking, ringing, roaring or even the rush of a waterfall. Dr. Garwood says tinnitus may accompany hypertension, high blood pressure, and the climacteric in women. We are sending you the names of two qualified otologists (M.D. ear specialists) in the Los Angeles area and are contacting the American Academy of Ophthalmology and Otolaryngology, Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., for additional information.

Teaching Jobs

Q. Is it possible to obtain literature and information about wages and benefits for teachers in the Long Beach and Garden Grove areas? I have a brother who has been teaching in New York State for the past four years who receive the grand sum of $475 per month. He is moving his family west next summer in hopes of getting better pay. I need some official information to pass along to him. He has a master's degree and teaches elementary school. Mrs. J.T., Long Beach.

A. Information is on its way to you, through the courtesy of the Long Beach Unified School District and the Orange County Schools credentials office. Salary schedules, benefits and retirement plans will be included. Both told ACTION LINE they always welcome inquiries in hopes of attracting well-qualified teachers to California.

REACTION

We are in accord with citizen K.H. and wish to acknowledge our gratitude for all the efforts our Long Beach Police officers make on behalf of our city. We were early taught that police officers are our friends and respectful admiration of traffic officers on duty is second nature to us. We take civic pride in reading of police achievements and loved seeing their awards-of-the-year presented on TV. We have elected to give our Christmas Club savings this year to the family of Officer William L. Isham who was recently killed while on duty. Please forward the enclosed check sent with our gratitude for his work on this department. Misses J.W. and J.W., Long Beach.

(Editors note: The contribution was delivered to Police Chief William J. Mooney whose office will relay the donation to his recipients.)

CREW TIF WON'T STOP QUEEN MARY

A dispute between Cunard Steamship Co. and crew members of the Queen Mary over "final voyage" pay is not expected to affect the scheduled sailing of the liner Tuesday morning, City Manager John R. Mansell said Friday.

Reports reaching here said the crew was asking a bonus of 25 pounds, about $70, because many of them will not be rehired by Cunard after the delivery voyage to Long Beach.

Jets Bomb Reds Again but Lose 3

Hanoi, Haiphong
Pounded; U.S.
Paying Price

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. jets bombed the Hanoi and Haiphong areas Friday for the fourth straight day, and lost three more planes, making this week one of the worst in the war for American plane losses.

The U.S. command said American pilots shot down one Soviet-built MIG, but reported three U.S. planes were lost to enemy ground fire and four fliers are missing.

THE RAIDS, dealing heavy blows to North Vietnamese installations, are taking a mounting toll of aircraft on both sides. The U.S. Command says 27 of North Vietnam's MIG fighters have been reported destroyed or damaged this week.

In the first six days of this week, a total of 14 U.S. planes have been officially reported lost. One was downed early in the week and since Tuesday, 13 more have been lost and a total of 15 fliers are missing—one of them an admiral's son.

The highest American aircraft losses for any seven-day period in the Vietnam war was 16 planes, downed Aug. 21-27 with 24 fliers missing.

The North Vietnamese claimed they shot down nine American planes Friday—seven of them during raids on the capital and its suburbs.

MAJOR U.S. targets Friday included the 740-foot long railroad and highway bridge across the Canal des Rapides five miles northeast of the center of Hanoi, a military storage area three miles southwest of the capital that was hit for the first time, an electric power plant 15 miles northeast of Haiphong, and two oil-storage depots within 10 miles of Haiphong.

There was no major ground action reported in South Vietnam after a big engagement 70 miles north of Saigon early Friday when South Vietnamese infantrymen repulsed three assaults by a North Vietnam regiment and killed 134 of the attackers.

Testimony Puts Him Miles Away

By SHERM WILLIAMS

Defense attorney Albert C. Ramsey Friday moved Jack Kirschke farther and farther from the scene where his wife and her lover were killed in the Naples section of Long Beach last April 8.

Through testimony of a bartender and a young woman with a hyperactive son, Ramsey had firmly planted the suspended deputy district attorney at Los Angeles International Airport, between 11 and 11:30 p.m. in testimony Thursday and Friday morning.

Then he called upon a San Bernardino waitress, who testified Kirschke was munching wheat toast and sausage in a restaurant between 12:30 a.m. and 2 a.m. the morning of the slaying. (According to prosecution testimony, Elaine Terry Kirschke and Orville William Drankhan were shot to death in Kirschke's bedroom at 2:30 a.m. April 8.)

Then Ramsey examined a part-time service station attendant who said he filled Kirschke's Volkswagen with gasoline between 2:30 a.m. and 3:30 a.m. in the desert town of Yermo, on April 8, the attendant's 19th birthday.

Friday was marked by another battle of words between Assistant Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris and Ramsey, with Ramsey receiving an admonition from Judge Kathleen Parker of Los Angeles Superior Court for not telling Harris he was going to call the San Bernardino waitress, Peggy Jean Peterson.

Under the court order issued at the outset of the trial, Ramsey was required to provide the prosecution with names of defense witnesses.

Ramsey said he didn't notify Harris about Miss Peterson — whose testimony came as an obvious surprise to the prosecution — because the prosecution had interviewed her shortly after the murder and was aware of her.

Also, he said earlier that he had specified he would name alibi witnesses, if he had any, who would peg Kirschke's whereabouts at 2:30 a.m. April 8 — when Kirschke's upstairs duplex neighbor reported hearing "two loud concussion" sounds from below.

Judge Parker said she disagreed with Ramsey's explanation and noted, "I think under the court order the name of this witness (Miss Peterson) should have been given to the prosecution."

Harris, in extensive cross examination, was unable to shake Miss Peterson's testimony about when she served Kirschke his early-morning breakfast.

She was followed to the stand by slight, blond-

Gun Battle Mendel Rivers, in L.B., Calls Erupts at for Nuclear-Powered Navy L.A. Bank

By VINT MADER

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — One bank robber was shot and killed Friday, another was captured and a third escaped with $30,881 in a mailbag during a gun battle with police at a South Los Angeles branch of Bank of America.

The gun battle broke out when two policemen, responding to a silent alarm, entered the bank. Twenty customers and 18 employees dived for cover as the officers and robbers exchanged gunfire.

While gunfire from two of the robbers kept officers busy, the third man leaped the counter and went down the line of tellers' windows, shoving money into the mailbag.

ONE of the robbers headed for the front door and was gunned down by a bank guard. Another was taken into custody as the robber with the mailbag full of loot fled out a door to a getaway car.

None of the customers or bank employees was injured. Police identified the dead man as Norris Stinnett, 32, Los Angeles.

Booked on suspicion of robbery was William Emery, 26, a transient.

GUESS 'MARY'S' MILEAGE Anchors Aweigh for I, P-T Contest

Contest ahooy... for landlubbers, young and old alike

On Sunday the Independent Press-Telegram launches its VOYAGE contest to help celebrate the Queen Mary's Long Voyage Home to Long Beach, starting Tuesday at Southampton. The veteran congressman who heads the House Armed Services Committee served notice in Long Beach Friday night that Congress is going to demand "the steady and progressive conversion to nuclear power" of the U.S. Navy.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-South Carolina, told a Navy Day banquet audience of about 1,000 in Lafayette Hotel that this means designing more nuclear-powered ships annually and pushing development of small nuclear engines.

"Our committee made it clear," Rivers said, "that no additional aircraft carriers will be authorized unless they are nuclear-powered."

"AND NUCLEAR carriers, of course, should have nuclear support vessels in the task force."

He noted that ships of the Navy's existing nuclear task force have demonstrated "clear operational superiority in action off the coast of Vietnam."

The ships include the nuclear-powered cruiser USS Long Beach, frigates Bainbridge and Truxtun, and based in Long Beach, and the aircraft carrier Enterprise.

The dinner drew to the hotel a group of about 30 pickets who marched and chanted on the sidewalk as the banqueters, many of them Navy officers of all ranks in dress uniform and other ex-Navy men, went into the Lafayette's International Ballroom.

The tall, white-haired Rivers, who has been a congressman 27 years and Armed Services Committee chairman three years, said in a brief interview that the pickets, mostly students, were there when he arrived.

"I looked at them and said to myself, 'That's pretty much a disgrace to their parents,'" he commented.

ASKED about his committee's rejection this year of a Navy request for about $9 million to transfer its Naval Ordnance Test Station to Los Alamitos and develop it as an undersea warfare research complex, Rivers said he does not have a personal feeling about the proposal.

"I don't know I haven't seen any final report on it," he said, recalling that his committee sent the plan back to the Navy for more study.

"I can't have any feeling about it until we see the report," he said.

The congressman said he thinks Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, with whom Rivers has often feuded, cut out so many military construction projects that were passed this year that the research station plan probably would have been removed even if Congress had approved it this year.

IN HIS address, Rivers said his committee, the House and Senate Appropriations Committee and their Joint Committee on Atomic Energy "are all united in their belief in the efficacy of nuclear power."

He noted that nuclear warships can stay at sea independent of land support or of oilers for refueling.

"When all the long-range fuel and supply costs are included," Rivers said, "the additional price of nuclear-powered ships over conventional ships is not as great as many people believe."

He said development "should be pushed just as fast as the state of the art will allow" on small nuclear engines.

Long Beach Rep. Craig Hosmer, who is ranking Republican member of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, said in an interview that the committee "has consistently favored the converting of all major units of the U.S. Navy to

Hippies' Clinic to Reopen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Haight-Ashbury hippie free clinic, which closed recently for lack of funds after treating some 13,000 hippies this summer, will reopen after a fiscal shot in the arm.

About $15,000 has been raised to keep the clinic going for five months, reported Dr. Robert Norris, chairman of a committee interested in the clinic.

The clinic was forced to close last Sept. 22, with national publicity. Almost immediately, entertainment benefits were given for the medical facility in the heart of hippieland.

Romney Calls LBJ a Phony
Combined News Services

DENVER — Michigan Gov. George Romney met his celebrated "brainwashing" remark head on Friday by calling President Johnson a "phony" who has confused Americans with "misleading and dishonest budgets." "Lyndon Johnson is an expert in brainwashing," Romney said from the top of a chair at the Western States Republican Conference. "He has misled us on the budget from the moment he took office. What a phony!"

CINCINNATI — California Gov. Ronald Reagan Friday night called the Johnson administration's Great Society a "colossal and complete failure." "The time has come to stop being our brother's keeper and start being our brother's brother and he'll start keeping himself," he said. The time has come, he said, to return the country to a party that believes "government is derived from three important words: We the people."

SAN FRANCISCO — Former Alabama Governor George Wallace said Friday he will attempt to put his name on the California ballot in the 1968 presidential election.

IT'S A HABIT
SACRAMENTO — It happened to Gov. Ronald Reagan—again. Press Secretary Paul Beck Friday displayed to a newsman a letter to Michigan Gov. George Romney. It was mislabeled to Reagan. The letter was sent by Mrs. Ruthie J. Dickson, extradition secretary to Florida Gov. Claude Kirk. It was meant for Romney but the envelope was addressed to Reagan. Beck said the letter was forwarded to Romney and an explanation was sent to Mrs. Dickson.

U.S. Probes Kidnap
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — The Justice Department is moving quietly into a full-scale probe of the shooting of a former Teamsters Union secretary who testified against James Hoffa in a continuing investigation of his legal maneuvers. A squad of Justice Department attorneys who have directed the investigation into Hoffa-related matters here is expected to return Monday. There were indications the shooting victim will be taken before the grand jury as early as Wednesday. Meanwhile, police searched this mountain city today for a Negro couple wanted in the alleged abduction and shooting of the former Teamster secretary, who says she is marked for murder because she testified against Hoffa.

Roosevelt Memorial
WASHINGTON — A stone and bronze memorial to Theodore Roosevelt — the biggest to be dedicated here to an American president in almost a quarter of a century — was unveiled Friday on a wild little island in mid-Potomac. President Johnson spoke, as did Chief Justice Earl Warren and Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall. But the celebrity of the day was Alice Roosevelt Longworth, eldest child of the conservationist president and still the capital's beloved enfant terrible at the age of 83. Not since the world-famous memorial to Thomas Jefferson was dedicated in 1943 has the capital seen a presidential monument of such size. It covers 3 acres of what was wilderness with an oval paved plaza 264 feet wide by 220 feet deep, surrounded by a moat and embellished with two large and hyperthyroid fountains. The 26th president's frock-coated statue stands near the edge, right arm flung upward.

Snow Snarls Midwest
Record October snow snapped power lines, felled trees and caused scores of traffic accidents in sections of the Midwest Friday. Grand Rapids, Mich., had 8.3 inches of snow; Lansing 6 inches; Moline, Ill., 6.5 inches, and Davenport, Iowa, 6 inches. Chicagoans sloshed through the slush from a 4-inch snow. Heavy rain and gale force winds pounded the Northwest. Forest warnings were issued for eastern Oklahoma, northern Mississippi and Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee, and a hard freeze was expected in Illinois and Missouri.

CRISIS CALL
OTTAWA — John Diefenbaker said Friday that President Kennedy on Oct. 22, 1962, asked him to declare a national emergency without consulting him beforehand on the Cuban missile crisis. Diefenbaker said he received a phone call from the President about 2 p.m. that day, five hours before Kennedy went on TV to disclose the presence of Soviet missiles in Cuba and the American blockade. Diefenbaker said Kennedy wanted him to declare a national emergency that very afternoon, adding: "He thought that what he wanted Canada to do, we would do." An informant said that what made the matter particularly galling was that some Canadian authorities had heard three weeks earlier about the Russian missiles. Canadian authorities kept waiting for Washington to consult Canada, but it never came. Canada did not officially put its NORAD forces on alert until 36 hours after the crisis became public knowledge.

Sen. Long Tiffs With Diaz Ordaz

Combined News Services
Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz admonished Congress politely but firmly Friday to think twice before it imposes protectionist curbs on international trade. But he drew a quick rejoinder from the Senate.

Legislation to place import quotas on many commodities is pending in Congress and Diaz Ordaz made clear his misgivings about its possible effects. Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., one of the sponsors of import quotas, told the Senate later that Diaz Ordaz has been misled if he thinks pending legislation would injure Mexico. He said Congress must deal with some products from major industrial nations—mentioning oil, gas, steel and textiles—and asserted Mexico would not be adversely affected if the legislation passes.

Departing from his prepared text in a speech to a joint session of the Senate and the House, Diaz Ordaz said: "You are sovereign, of course, but before you make decisions which might affect millions, you may wish to consider their effects on the outside world."

Speaking in Spanish with a translator at his side, the Mexican executive noted that Mexico is the best customer of the U.S. in Latin America and one of the largest importers of American goods in the world.

But trade, he said pointedly, cannot continue unless it is mutually advantageous.

UNBEARABLE
Vice President Hubert Humphrey told Mexican Americans Friday their condition in life is unbearable—but never in history have they had such a shining opportunity to change it through their own efforts and their government's help.

As he spoke at El Paso, pickets from three southwestern states marched outside the auditorium to dramatize their complaint that the conference he addressed was an assemblage of puppets dangling from federal financial strings.

Humphrey's visit preceded by 24 hours the arrival of Presidents Johnson and Diaz Ordaz. The two presidents formally conclude today the treaty of El Chamizal, which returns to Mexico a slice of land cut away in 1852 by a southward shift of the Rio Grande, the international boundary line.

Meanwhile, Reis Tejerina, leader of a militant Spanish-American group, held a press conference and declared: "Our lives and our blood" are in President Johnson's hands.

Navy Pilot Was His Only Trade
New York Times Service

SAIGON — It was almost three months ago. The young, prematurely gray Navy pilot was sitting in a Saigon villa, sipping a Scotch and recalling the holocaust he had managed to live through. His name was John Sydney McCain III, a junior lieutenant commander. "It's a difficult thing to say," he remarked, "but now that I've seen what the bombs and the napalm did to the people on our ship (Forrestal) I'm not so sure that I want to drop any more of that stuff on North Vietnam."

He apparently changed his mind, for Commander McCain headed back to the Gulf of Tonkin to fly his Skyhawk from the Oriskany. One of the reasons he changed his mind may have been that he had no other trade. His grandfather had been a full admiral — four stars — and his father was one, too. No other Navy family could boast such a singular tradition. Thursday, McCain didn't make it back. His father was informed that he was missing, and the North Vietnamese reported his capture.

DROPOUT

Actor George Hamilton announced he would drop out of the stock company version of "Funny Girl" touring the East Coast when it reaches Washington, home of his one-time girl friend Lynda Bird Johnson.

The show's last two weeks were to be played in the capital where Hamilton used to visit the White House as the constant escort of Lynda Bird, engaged now to Marine Capt. Charles Robb. Hamilton said he will sing and dance on Ed Sullivan's Nov. 19 television show and needed the time to rehearse.

DONATION

A car thief in Raiford State Prison at Milton, Fla., has offered to give one of his kidneys to a pretty 13-year-old girl "if I can save a girl's life."

Niles Lloyd Palmer, 23, said "If this girl needed a heart, I would offer mine with only the request that she live her life in a way that would help others to gain a more happy life." The girl, Karen Locklin, has undergone two unsuccessful kidney transplants since 1966 and must have weekly treatments on an artificial kidney machine to cleanse her blood.

GIRDLE RANSOM

Johnny Carson's stolen limousine turned up in New York Friday, minus a half-dozen turtleneck shirts he had called irreplaceable, and his wife's "living girdle." The rented car was stolen Wednesday night. Carson said he thought that the "living girdle" might be held for ransom.

DEATH KNELL

Dr. Benjamin Spock denounced in New York a scheduled Senate investigation of the New Left, saying it could mark the death knell for traditional dissent in this country.

"He will be surprised at some of the indignation with which this will be fought," Spock said of the Senate internal security subcommittee's chairman, Sen. James O. Eastland.

FIRST, ROME

Mrs. John F. Kennedy leaves today on the first leg of a trip that will take her into the jungles of Cambodia to see the fabled 1,000-year-old ruins of Angkor, a little more than 200 miles from the fighting in Vietnam.

Her host, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has taken extraordinary security precautions "in case the Communists use the occasion for demonstrations." Mrs. Kennedy first flies alone on a commercial plane to Rome, where she will visit friends and do some sight-seeing.

VATICAN TALKS

Patriarch Athenagoras, spiritual leader of the Eastern Orthodox Church, held private talks at the Vatican with Pope Paul VI on ways to reunite their two churches. The bearded patriarch then chanted a Greek hymn to Christian martyrs in the ancient Roman Colosseum. Shortly after Friday's talks, Vatican sources said the pontiff would undergo surgery to correct an enlarged prostate gland probably within the next two weeks.

"The Sam Yorty Show" on Channel 9 has been renewed through December. Continuance after the first show of the year will depend on whether Mayor Yorty decides to run for public office.

TO COURT will go the fight of Nancy McGlone, 32, to recover the teaching job in Concord she lost for wearing a mini-skirt to school. Trustees this weekend found her guilty on 12 1/2 of 20 charges against her.

4 YEARS

Army Pvt. Michael E. Bratcher, St. Louis, was sentenced to four years confinement at hard labor and dishonorably discharged Friday after he pleaded guilty at Ft. Lewis, Wash. The 20-year-old soldier went on a hunger strike last spring in an effort to get out of the Army as a conscientious objector.

MARCHER

Frank Kowalski, retired Army colonel one-time congressman, and former member of the Subversive Activities Control Board, marched in last weekend's anti-Vietnam war demonstration in Washington. "Millions of Americans deeply and sincerely disagree with our Vietnam policy," Kowalski, a Democrat, said. "I feel deeply that this war is wrong. So I will march with the young people against the war — up to the very doors of the Pentagon."

TO THE RESCUE

Two hippies went to the rescue Friday of an Oakland policeman, who was being beaten by a man he was trying to arrest.

"We hate cops but we hated worse to see you taking a beating," the patrolman, Robert Coffman, 23, quoted his rescuers.

The man was booked on multiple charges including possession of marijuana. Coffman was treated for possible rib fractures.

FROM MALICE

Actor Lee Majors has filed a $2-million damage suit in Los Angeles against Photoplay magazine, charging that a story about him in the Oct. 19 issue was false and libelous. The suit said statements in an article entitled "Why Barbara Stanwyck Dislikes Lee Majors — And What He Did To Deserve It" were written from malice and not true.

SPARRING PAAR

Ed Sullivan is almost contrite for having rekindled an old feud with Jack Paar.

Sullivan was quoted recently as saying Paar was a "thoroughly no-good S.O.B." Paar returned to video to defend himself. "NBC has its peacock and now, I think, CBS has its cuckoo," he said.

But, Paar admitted, Sullivan must have "something of genius" and "showmanship" about him to keep a program going 20 years even though "he can make a mystery out of a simple sentence."

"In his fumbling, bumbling way, he makes it look like any nut can walk in off the street and do his program," Paar said.

COOLER

Jean Pierre Marquand, who hiked 100 miles across the length of the blistering Death Valley desert last year, reportedly water skied 180 miles from Tahiti to Bora Bora on one ski this week.

Observers on Bora Bora said Marquand collapsed upon arrival but quickly revived to receive a flower lei greeting. The 29-year-old adventurer, a former French paratrooper, completed the hike across Death Valley on July 28, 1966 to show that adventure still exists in America.

NO SUPPORT

The John Birch Society is abandoning temporarily its campaign to impeach U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren. Robert Welch, speaking at a dinner Thursday night, blamed lack of support among U.S. citizens. Welch said the group's full efforts would now be aimed at halting U.S. trade with Communist nations.

HO-HO-HO

"Mr. and Mrs. Santa" Claus left Bay, Mich., Friday by plane in the midst of a snowstorm to teach Australians how to ho-ho-ho.

In real life, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Doan, they are due to be greeted by several hundred children when they disembark at Sydney next Tuesday. Doan, 48, is dean of the Santa Claus school at Albion, N.Y. His wife, Mary Ida, is a graduate of the school.

It's Time to Mess Around With the Old Clock Again

By DAVID SHAW

In one of the great scenes in world drama Hamlet, prince of Denmark, having just confronted the embittered ghost of his father, King Claudius, whirls toward the audience, and moans:

"The time is out of joint—O, cursed spite
That ever I was born to set it right."

Hamlet was agonizing over his father's ghost's disclosure that he was murdered by Hamlet's uncle, who—having won the king's wife—wanted his crown and life as well.

But if Hamlet were alive today—make that tomorrow—he could well be using those same words after a confrontation with a clock—not a ghost.

Daylight Savings Time ends at 2 a.m. Sunday, and if he went to bed tonight without setting his clock back one hour to Standard Time, time would, indeed, be "out of joint" when he awakened Sunday.

HE MIGHT get to church an hour before the doors open. Or he might flick on a football game an hour before the kickoff.

And, "cursed spite" as he might, he would still have to "set it right"—or be an hour early every day until April 28, 1968, when the nation returns to Daylight Savings Time.

Daylight Savings, first proposed by Benjamin Franklin in 1784 as an economic measure to help the French save money spent on candles, did not come into widespread use until World War I.

More and more cities and states began using it in the 1930s and each decade following, but it was not until 1966 that Congress enacted legislation setting daylight savings for the period between the last Sunday in April and the last Sunday in October.

There are still some areas—primarily in the Midwest—that ignore Daylight Savings or have it during a different period, because the federal law exempted those sections of the country in which local or state legislation had already established daylight savings regulations.

The change from Daylight Savings Time to Standard will complete the first mandatory time switch under the Uniform Time Act passed by Congress last year.

The act provides that all clocks in any state must always have the same time.

THE FEDERAL LAW also provides that state legislatures could apply for exemption. Alaska and Hawaii were exempted. Forty-six states are to be in full compliance with the federal law.

Even in those areas that have the April-October schedule, there are many who resent Daylight Savings—and not just because it's dark when they wake up.

Travel and communications firms—particularly railroads and airlines—claim the switch from Standard to Daylight, and back costs them millions of dollars every year in rescheduling and printing timetables.

Farmers and ranchers are equally upset, claiming their animals function on sun time, not clock time.

Despite the scattered dissidence, Daylight Savings seems a permanent fixture in America. There is even talk of operating on Daylight Savings all year long.

Until that happens, however, it is best to remember the clock-changing ditty, "Spring ahead, fall back," so you turn your clock forward an hour in April and back an hour in October instead of vice versa.

Poetry it ain't—but even Hamlet had a few bad lines.

Killer of Carson Bartender Hunted

Sheriff's homicide detectives are seeking a cold-blooded pair of bandits who murdered a bartender, wounded a customer and terrorized 10 others in a $450 Carson area tavern robbery early Friday.

After emptying the cash register at Stocky's Cafe, 21318 S. Alameda St., the robbers marched bartender Richard Joseph Heisner, 26, of 1543 1/2, 227th St., Torrance, into a storage room and shot him once in the chest, killing him instantly, detectives said.

They said there was "no apparent reason" for the slaying.

Detectives said the robbers stroled into the tavern-cafe about 1:25 a.m., drew pistols and commanded, "We want your money."

Get down on the floor."

One gunman walked behind the bar and took $400 from the cash register. The second robber took Heisner to the back room.

The killer briefly emerged from the back room, forcing a woman customer to accompany him back inside at gunpoint to pick up money he had dropped and place it in a paper bag, detectives said.

Meanwhile, investigators said, the second gunman took about $50 in cash and watches from patrons lying on the floor.

The killer emerged from the storage room the second time, started to flee with his accomplice, then turned and fired another shot into the group of prone customers.

The bullet struck Alfonso Vernon Stockdale, 47, of 271 Madison St., Long Beach, in the back.

Buena Park Getting Prepared for Big Silverado Days Fiesta

By BARBARA KNESIS

Plans for Buena Park's Silverado Days are moving into high gear with the annual city-wide celebration only a week away.

The nine-day celebration with its beauty contest, rodeo car rally and carnival will be launched Nov. 4 with the youth parade, starting at 10 a.m. from William Peak Park.

Selection of a Miss Buena Park is set for 7 p.m. the same day at the Women's Club, 6711 Beach Blvd.

Ten young beauties will vie for the title. They are Terri Keane, student at Western High School; Kathy Kilgore, Sharon McAley and Linda McEvoy of Savanna High; Carol Bates, Cherie Carothers, Dorenda Creel, Margaret Downey, Sally Hamilton and Linda Rose, all students at Western High School.

The queen will be crowned by the current Miss Buena Park, Dianne Jo Hays.

A car rally will be staged 7 p.m. Nov. 6.

Another highlight of the

celebration is a family night scheduled for 5:30 p.m. Nov. 7 at Bellis Park. There will be a typical Western outdoor barbecue, with a program of musical entertainment.

The five-day carnival will open Nov. 8 at the park. A "Battle of the Bands" competition will start Nov. 9 and run through Nov. 11, with finals on Nov. 12.

Also scheduled during Silverado Days is the Civic Light Opera Company's production of "Annie Get Your Gun" at LaPalma Junior High School.

The Grand Parade, billed as the largest ever, is set for Nov. 11. Television personality Richard Long will be the grand marshal. Units from 21 cities outside Buena Park already are entered in the parade.

RESCUE SWITCH LEGAL

The Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team could legally operate under the direction of County Fire Chief Keith Klinger, County Administrative Office, Lindon S. Hollinger reports.

PROBE FEATURES BUCK-PASSING

Who Goofed Job Program?

By JIM MCCAULEY
From Our L.A. Bureau

A congressional subcommittee, probing why an $8.6-million federal training program in the Los Angeles area got off to a slow start, got conflicting testimony Friday.

A parade of witnesses acknowledged that the authorized training positions weren't filled up in time to ease the pressures of the long, hot summer.

But public and poverty program officials blamed one another for the program bogging down.

After several hours of buck-passing testimony on who goofed up the program, Chairman Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Los Angeles, of the House labor subcommittee, observed:

"There is a need for greater coordination of the poverty agencies. One agency doesn't know what the other is doing. I hope to see to it that the federal government does a better coordination job, and we will sponsor additional legislation if necessary."

AMONG THE CHARGES and countercharges over the program:

David Scott, representing the Skills Training and Employment Project, said a factor in 125 unfilled training positions in his agency was "a lack of faith in the employment service" on the part of ghetto jobless.

Ted Watkins of the Watts Labor Community Action Committee protested the arbitrary pinpointing of project target areas, protesting there is a 30 per cent unemployment rate in the Willowbrook area, where the unemployed are ineligible to participate in the program because they are south of the South-Central Los Angeles target area.

David Novogrodsky, executive director of a social workers union, charged Los Angeles County had spent federal economic opportunity job-training funds to provide free sidewalks for unincorporated county areas.

Rep. Phil Burton, D-San Francisco, branded as "slave labor" using skilled craftsmen on the sidewalk projects at cut-rate, job-training fund pay. The alternative for the sidewalk builders: losing eligibility for public assistance.

3.3 Million Cars Called Back in Year

WASHINGTON (AP) —

About 3.3 million American and foreign vehicles have been recalled for a check of potential defects since the start of the government's safety program a year ago.

The figures were released Friday by the National Highway Safety Bureau of the U.S. Department of Transportation.

The largest of the recalls was the most recent. It involved recall Monday of 1,143,000 1965 model Chevrolets for replacement of the idler arm in the steering assembly. General Motors said some of the idler arms had proven defective after extended mileage.

A booklet summarizing recalls through Sept. 9 listed 1.9 million vehicles, of which about 100,000 were foreign-made. About 1.3 million vehicles have been recalled since the period covered by the booklet.

Under the 1966 Motor Vehicle Safety Act, manufacturers are required to notify the purchaser or owner and the safety bureau of all vehicles found to be defective.

A spokesman for the bureau said some recall campaigns have begun with phone calls or letters to the bureau from automobile owners. The spokesman said many other campaigns start when dealers find defects and notify the manufacturers.

The figures on recalls represent the number of vehicles involved—but not the number which are actually located or repaired. The bureau spokesman said no such figures are available.

San Pedro Man to State Board

From Our State Bureau

SACRAMENTO — Charles A. Soderstrom of San Pedro was appointed Friday to the California Aeronautics Board by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The appointment, effective Nov. 8, pays $25 per meeting plus expenses, and will expire Nov. 8, 1971.

Soderstrom, a 54-year-old Republican, is a San Pedro automobile dealer and has been a licensed pilot more than 30 years. He is the current holder of the Los Angeles to New York nonstop speed record for light planes.

Paramount Man Facing Trial in Bludgeon Slaying of Stepdad

Robert Kenneth Edwards was arraigned Friday in Compton Municipal Court on a charge of murdering his stepfather and then setting the victim's home ablaze to hide the crime.

Edwards, 23, of 8414 1/2 Second St., Paramount, was held without bail by Judge Richard J. Tobey pending a preliminary hearing next Friday.

He is accused of the bludgeoning murder of Ocie Claude McMurtry, 48, manager of the Torrance chapter of the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

McMurtry was found dead by firemen on the dining-room floor of his $30,000 home at 1305 E. 216th St., Dominguez, early last Monday.

Sheriff's Homicide Lt.

Norman Hamilton said the two men apparently had a "family quarrel," the cause of which was not revealed.

Lt. Hamilton said Edwards was suspected of bludgeoning his stepfather, then dousing the residence with an inflammable fluid which was set afire.

Neighbors reported hearing loud voices about midnight, and county firemen were called to the scene shortly after 3 a.m.

40 Students Stricken at Fullerton State

More than 40 Fullerton State College students were treated at the campus medical center Friday for a mild form of food poisoning, officials said.

Dr. Helen C. Morton, medical center director, said most of the students returned to classes after treatment.

Samples of food served at an off-campus dormitory were sent to Orange County Health Department officials for analysis.

State Can't Crack Kirschke Defense

haired Dennis Bailey, 19, of Barstow, a Yermo service station attendant.

Bailey, who testified that he was then working only Friday nights, gave a detailed account of his work the night of April 7-8. He said he had started cleaning the men's restroom at the station at 2:30 a.m. when Kirschke came in, made a comment on the weather, and told Bailey he needed his car's gas tank filled.

Bailey said he remembered Kirschke's 1963-model car because its front bumper was rusted, its paint was badly oxidized, and the front license plate, not secured on the bottom, had to be held up to close the car's hood.

The youth, who said a co-worker, Gene Ledet, also spoke with Kirschke, told the court Kirschke paid for about $3 worth of gas with a $5 bill.

He admitted, under cross examination, that he didn't recognize Kirschke a week later when he reappeared in the gas station clad in a suit, trenchcoat and hat.

But, he said, he did recognize a picture, shown him that same night by investigators, of Kirschke in a sweater and slacks.

Friday's war of words between the defense and prosecution was the second in two days.

Earlier Friday, Judge Parker had cleared Harris of an accusation by Ramsey that he should be held in contempt of court, "for harassing" a defense witness. Ramsey charged that Gene M. Frica, special agent for the attorney general, and district attorney investigator Earl Cludy had "routed and intimidated" a witness, Mrs. Vera Judd, Wednesday.

Mrs. Judd had testified she saw Kirschke at L.A. International Airport after 11 p.m. April 7.

Judge Parker said she had conferred with Mrs. Judd, and the witness had told her "she had not suffered any harassment" during her interrogation by the prosecution investigators.

The judge said Mrs. Judd complained because investigators had repeatedly asked similar questions, repeating her answers, but often "not correctly."

"If there was any harassment, it was on the part of the very lively four-year-old, and I am inclined to think the investigators came off second best," Judge Parker said.

The jurist was referring to Cludy's complaint that Webster Judd, son of the witness, had bitten him on the arm during the questioning.

Earlier, airport bartender Jack Ferra testified he served the 46-year-old defendant three or four drinks between 8:30 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. April 7.

The prosecution contends Kirschke, suspended L.A. County deputy district attorney, left the airport at 9:56 p.m., returned to Long Beach to stay with his wife and her lover, then drove directly to Las Vegas to attend a Rotary Club convention.

Kirschke claims he left for Nevada directly from the airport.

Ferra said he remembered Kirschke because, "being a sun-worshiper myself, I noticed he had a very dark tan."

Four Held in Slaying of Man, 85

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 15-year-old boy and three men were held Friday on suspicion of murder and robbery in the death Monday of Robert Ewy, 85.

Sheriff's Lt. Norman Hamilton said a passerby supplied a description of the killers and their car. In custody were Sam Chism, 23, National Ryles, 15, James Thomas, 18, and his 19-year-old brother, Willford.

The elderly man was bludgeoned while he slept, and then was shot to death. A television set and clock were taken from his home.

Chism's brother, Lewis, 22, was arrested on suspicion of receiving the stolen television set.

Saigon Sentry Smiles as Officers Hoot It

By BUCK LANIER
Military Editor

SAIGON — An Army sentry in front of the Rex Hotel was smiling.

And why not.

Assorted officers were having to hoot it up five flights to eat chow. One of the city's periodic power failures had killed the elevators.

Their sulphuric comments drifted outside.

Spec. 4 Del Archey, 23, of Torrance, was covert about his laughter, saluting officers as they entered the hotel.

In addition he stays busy during his eight-hour shift checking papers and for weapons on the Vietnamese working in the hotel.

Then there is the chance of a terrorist attack at any time.

This is a far cry from his civilian job as a plastic fabricator for missiles at North American Aviation at Inglewood.

"In addition to our regular shift we are on an eight-hour alert and rotate our sites. Roving patrols are seconds away if we need help," the 1981 Narbonne High graduate said.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Archey, 1509-227th St., Apt. C.

Archey has been in Saigon since June with Divisional Security of the 716 MP Battalion. A full day off every 15 days is average.

"This is better than being in the field," he said, "but the word is we are going to get a Christmas 'present' — a transfer to the field."

Two Ships Collide in Stormy Sea

ROTTERDAM, Netherlands (AP) — A French tanker and a German ship with a cargo of cattle collided Friday night in stormy weather off the Dutch coast and ran aground.

All 77 persons aboard the two ships were reported rescued.

The ships were the 2,746-ton tanker President Pierre Angot with a crew of 24 and the 4,234-ton Hornland, which carried 12 passengers and a crew of 41. Authorities said the Angot was inbound and the German vessel outbound when they collided off Vlaardingen.

Parts of both ships were reported flooded and experts said recovery would be difficult. The Hornland was reported to have a large hole in its structure.

2 L.A.-S.F. Train Cuts Get Approval

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The state Public Utilities Commission voted unanimously Friday to allow the Santa Fe to abandon two of its train-bus operations between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The Interstate Commerce Commission already had permitted Santa Fe to discontinue the interconnecting trains operating between Bakersfield and Chicago.

The two trains abandoned are Nos. 7 and 8. Train No. 8 left San Francisco at 6:45 p.m. and the bus connecting at Bakersfield arrived at Los Angeles at 2:50 a.m. This train averaged 45 passengers a day. Train No. 7 left Los Angeles at 4:15 p.m. and arrived in San Francisco 3:15 a.m. carrying an average of 23 passengers a day.

Unruh to Try Again for an Ombudsman

HARRIMAN, N.Y. (UPI) — California Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, whose ombudsman bill twice was scuttled by the legislature, said Friday he will introduce the plan again at the 1968 session.

But the Democratic lawmaker conceded in a speech at Columbia University that a major stumbling stone on the route to approval was the "belief by some legislators that handling constituent complaints was politically advantageous."

The ombudsman, a Scandinavian institution, would act as an independent investigator and would field gripes from citizens about government bureaucracy and abuse.

USS Hornet Due to Arrive Today

The Navy antisubmarine carrier USS Hornet arrives in Long Beach this afternoon — fresh from seven months of duty off Vietnam and the almost daily job of stinging enemy forces where it would hurt the most.

nuclear power," from frigates to aircraft carriers.

"THAT HAS been the position of the committee, and the individual members of it are fully in accord," said Hosmer.

In addition to Hosmer, who introduced Rivers, another congressman among headtable guests was Rep. Charles Wilson, D-Los Angeles, a member of Rivers' committee.

Rivers told the audience he brings "special thanks" to Long Beach as a city that, for years, has followed the "Rivers sermon" in making service personnel feel welcome and at home.

He also praised the city as being "in the forefront" in ocean research, and conscious of marine wealth through oceanography, oil operations and its port.

Serving as a unit of the 7th Fleet, the Hornet was part of one of the most powerful sea forces ever assembled — Task Force 77, which operated in the Gulf of Tonkin with the primary mission of halting the flow of material from North Vietnam to enemy units in the southern half of the war-torn Southeast Asia country.

The 44,000-ton Hornet, which steamed nearly 60,000 miles on her latest war-zone deployment, has a 2,600-man crew and serves as flagship for Rear Adm. W. J. Moran, commander of Antisubmarine Warfare Group 3.

Prior to arrival in Long Beach, scheduled for 2:30 p.m. at Naval Station Pier E, the carrier was to disembark its air group (57) in San Diego.

About 300 dependents of Hornet personnel were to leave Long Beach by bus early this morning to board the carrier at San Diego and travel the last leg of the homeward journey.

U.S. Judges Weigh State Sedition Act

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A panel of three federal judges Friday took under submission an American Civil Liberties Union challenge of California's criminal syndicalism law as unconstitutional.

The statute makes it illegal to advocate acts of force or violence to overthrow the government. It was invoked for the first time in 29 years in the case of John Wesley Harris Jr., a Negro and former Mississippi civil rights worker. He was charged with violating the law by distributing allegedly inflammatory leaflets at the May, 1966, in-

California Fair to Seek State Funds

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The legislature will be asked for $447,730 to help overcome an expected deficit during the new California Exposition and Fair's first year, a state official said Friday.

Stanley Fowler, assistant General Services director, said a $617,925 deficit is anticipated during fiscal 1968-69. The successor to the California State Fair is scheduled to open here in July.

He told the Exposition and Fair Executive Committee that the extra money could be sought from the general fund. This would be in addition to $265,000 from the State Fair and Exposition fund.

Fowler detailed the financial picture as the exposition committee approved a $5.2-million budget for the Cal Expo during 1968.

HOW TO FIND THE NEWSWORTHY QUOTE AND THE QUOTER

1. Define "Clues," writing definitions in answer column over numbered dashes.
2. Transfer letters to numbered squares in diagram the black squares separate words.
3. When pattern is completed, quotation can be read from left to right. The first letters of the answer words, reading down, form an acrostic yielding the speaker's name.

Reagan's Proposed Water Project Delays Assailed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The chairman of the Senate Water Resources Committee says it would be "legally and morally" wrong for the Reagan administration to proceed with maximum deferment of units of the financially-troubled State Water Project.

"Any deferment, I believe, is tantamount to cancellation," Sen. Gordon Collopy, R-Ind., said Friday in a speech prepared for the 48th annual conference of the California section of the American Water Works Association.

Cologne took strong exception to proposals by Water Resources Director William Gianelli to delay construction of several units of the project—especially Southern California's Perris Dam—to stave off a projected deficit.

GOV. REAGAN must decide in the next few months whether to defer projects or go to the 1968 Legislature for additional financing through a new bond issue.

Cologne said a new bond issue would solve the problem, but he doubted it would be approved by the voters. The next best alternative, he suggested, would be "minimum deferment" of projects and the sale of up to $50 million in Central Valley Project revenue bonds.

This device would leave the project with a $28.5-million surplus in 1972 and

Washington Threatens to Kill State's Migrant Program

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Johnson administration Friday issued a 35-point indictment of California's migrant farm labor program — and implied it may withdraw funds from its operation.

But California officials immediately defended the program as one of the best in the nation, and said proposed federal conditions were simply "not workable" for the state.

The program furnishes living quarters, medical treatment and even preschool care for 1,700 farm worker families in the state — mainly in the Central Valley.

The administration's objections were detailed in a letter to Theron Bell, state Office of Economic Opportunity director, from the federal Community Action Program field service director.

RALPH GUNDERSON, chief of state migrant programs, expressed concern and surprise about the letter. He called it an implied threat to chop off funding if the state does not operate the programs according to federal specifications.

He said the state migrant program, which operates 18 camps, was funded through a $3-million federal grant.

And he said the state had little hint of dissatisfaction until the letter was received Friday.

Although Gunderson declined to make public the entire text of the letter, which newsmen learned about from other sources, he acknowledged it had been received, and made public some portions.

One objection raised by federal officials was failure to meet a requirement that all persons employed in the labor camps be from the migrant population. Gunderson said about 50 percent of the operating personnel were migrants.

HE POINTED, for example, to the day-care centers for children of working parents. He said the centers involved caring for children aged 2-5, and said it was not possible to select the instructors from the migrant population "on a short term basis."

Another objection was about rent charged for some housing and its use. Gunderson said federal officials had agreed to honor California's proposals twice.

The state official said the federal government apparently felt "all decision should be made in Washington without regard to the wishes of the California administration, the farm

IF YOU'RE going to enter the IPT's VOYAGE contest, what better place to seek advice on nautical distances and trade routes! Jennifer Houser of Long Beach, Miss IP-Teen of 1967, consults with Charles Vickers, General Manager of the Port of Long Beach. Using a desk-sized model of the Queen Mary, Vickers points out some of the variables possible in calculating the exact distances involved in this unusual around-the-horn cruise from Southampton to Long Beach.

Guess 'Mary's' Mileage in I, P-T Voyage Contest

pect of a contest like this is that anyone can win! You don't have to know a bow from a stern in order to have a chance to guess the correct nautical mileage. A little research on the subject of trade routes might be helpful but then again, it may take a most unnautical hunch to win.

So enter every week... because even if you don't win any of the six weekly prizes, you still have six chances to estimate the total nautical mileage correctly. Each entry blank has space for both an estimate of the week's nautical mileage plus an estimate of the total voyage nautical mileage.

Watch for the full page advertisement in tomorrow's I, P-T. It will carry all rules of the contest, all deadlines for entry blank mailings and, of course, that all-important entry blank for submitting your winning(?) guess. Good luck!

Poets Pay Tribute to Randall Jarrell

RANDALL JARRELL, 1914-1965. Edited by Robert Lowell, Peter Taylor and Robert Penn Warren. Farrar, Straus & Giroux, $6.95.

An English poet with a touch of sarcasm in his nature once remarked to Karl Shapiro, "American poetry is a very easy subject to discuss for the simple reason that it does not exist."

The witty Briton's statement is a bit of an oversimplification but there is a grain of truth to it. Much of American poetry—all of it until the time of Whitman—has been heavily influenced, in fact imitative, of that produced by the British.

The emergence of a genuinely American style and tone has been only a recent development. Much of the credit, certainly for the creation of an American diction, is due directly to Randall Jarrell. Poet-critic Shapiro, in one of his few kind remarks about a contemporary, has described Jarrell as the "one poet of my generation who made an art of American speech as it is, who advanced beyond Frost in using... the actual rhythms of our speech."

Jarrell, who was himself both a critic and a poet as well as a novelist ("Pictures from an Institution,") died in 1965 after being struck by a truck near his home on the campus of the University of North Carolina, where he taught.

Twenty-eight of his contemporaries, each of whom knew Jarrell intimately, have contributed articles on him and his work for a memorial volume edited by Robert Lowell, Robert Penn Warren and novelist Peter Taylor. Among the contributors are Cleanth Brooks, John Crow Ransom, John Berryman, Elizabeth Bishop, James Dickey, Alfred Kazin, Marianne Moore, Delmore Schwartz, Leslie Fielder and Shapiro.

This collection of essays, written by the best poets and critics of the past 30 years, is invaluable to any poetry enthusiast. Though no evaluation of Jarrell's work is offered, the list of the contributors graphically illustrates Jarrell's contribution to American literature. — Bill Wasserzleher

SELECTED POEMS OF RUBEN DARJO

Translated by Lysander Kemp. Illustrated by John Guerin. University of Texas Press, $4.50.

He was born in one of the smallest and most backward of Latin American countries, Nicaragua, and in a village. He was both diplomat and dipsomaniac. He was an agnostic, but superstitious. All in all, not the man one would have expected to revivify the modern poetry of the Spanish-speaking world, an art which was, in the late 1890s, in a morbid state. Yet Ruben Darjo was exactly the shot in the arm this poetry needed. His name, a critic once said, "divides literary history into 'before' and 'after.'"

Lysander Kemp, himself a poet of talent, is a worthy translator and a judicious selector. A prologue to the collection was written by Octavio Paz, distinguished Mexican poet. The unique epilogue is the transcript of a radio dialogue between two giants of poetry, Spain's Federico Garcia Lorca and Chile's Pablo Neruda, in 1933. — Nat Horig

THIS OUTCAST GENERATION AND LUMINOUS MOSS. By Taijun Takeda. Translated from the Japanese by Yusaburo Shibuya and Sanford Goldstein. Tuttle, $2.95.

Two short novels by a contemporary Japanese writer. "Luminous Moss" raises the question which arose out of the incident of the Donner party in our own Western history—cannibalism or survival when one is starving to death. It deals with an incident of cannibalism in northern Japan during the war. "The Outcast Generation" is the story of a Japanese who remains in Shanghai after the Japanese defeat in World War II. — H.

Gilkerson Named to State Committee

City Engineer Jess D. Gilkerson has been named to a 14-man, statewide committee to prepare a report on highways which will be the basis for the State Legislature to act next year on gas tax legislation.

The California Streets and Highways Code requires that each city and county transmit to the Department of Public Works at four-year intervals a report of its progress on road improvements and its estimate of road needs over the next five and next 10 years.

THE CODE ALSO requires that the speaker of the State Assembly and the president pro tempore of the State Senate appoint a 14-man advisory committee to the Department of Public Works.

This will be the second such quadrennial report, and must be delivered to the Department of Public Works prior to next May 1. Gilkerson pointed out that the new advisory committee will have an added responsibility because, as of Nov. 9, state legislation becomes effective which takes from the State Division of Highways all control over the expenditure of gas tax money by cities for street improvements.

The only state control over these funds now is imposed by audits by the controller, and Gilkerson said the advisory committee is expected to check to see that standards are being maintained in the use of the tax funds.

First meeting of the new committee will be Nov. 9 in Sacramento. The committee served for two years from the date of adjournment of the legislative session at which it was appointed.

Leave It To Larry

By LARRY MEDER
HARBOR CHEVROLET

In this divorce action the judge gave his undivided attention as the husband explained how his wife kept seventeen cats in the house, and with the windows closed, the atmosphere in the home was somewhat musty. He also complained that the bits of fur, suspended in the air, irritated his hay fever.

Charging his wife with extreme cruelty, he begged Hizoner to grant him a divorce.

The judge—a veritable "Human-Lighthouse," because of the many divorces he kept OFF the rocks, asked the husband if he couldn't alleviate these deplorable conditions by opening the windows for better ventilation.

"What?" — cried the husband — "and let all my 72 pigeons fly out?"

Fellas, you won't need to open the windows if you get 4-season air-conditioning in your new Chevy. Please ask for Larry Meder at Harbor Chevrolet, GA 6-3341, 3770 Cherry.

Long Beach Buses Try Smog Traps

By GEORGE LAINE

A sign of things to come in man's battle against air pollution is already on the road in the Long Beach area.

Five new Long Beach Transportation Company buses sport a revolutionary muffler which holds noxious gases, smoke and odors within it, the first of its kind to see service west of Cleveland. They probably won't be the last.

"We've got a hunch these mufflers may be a type of handwriting on the wall," said William Farrell, manager of the bus company. "If they can be made practicable for automobiles, they could provide an answer to the smog problem."

Farrell said the major stumbling blocks to providing each new car with one of the catalytic mufflers is its weight (about 300 pounds) and its cost (nearly $300). Its about the size of a 30-gallon oil drum.

Addition of the pioneering device to the latest Long Beach buses was praised by Ron Terry, coach sales representative for General Motors Corporation in the Southland.

"As usual," he sighed, "Bill's first with the latest innovations."

Terry said that the catalytic muffler constitutes the first step in the direction the combustion engine is going to have to go if it is to be allowed to continue in use.

"Buses have never been regarded as the culprits in the smog situation," Terry said. "Most of them are diesel and diesel doesn't contribute if its good fuel."

THE MUFFLER — latest in a long list of efforts by GM to provide a working smog arrester with its vehicles — has proved out in tests in Cleveland. Early models using the same ceramic pellets as the new one did good work for short periods. But they had a short life. After 8,000 miles, the muffler had to be taken apart, the pellets cleaned and the muffler reassembled. The models tested in Cleveland showed no need for cleaning after 60,000 miles.

CUTAWAY SKETCH of experimental muffler shows flow of exhaust gases through a chamber containing ceramic pellets coated with a catalytic agent.

"We count ourselves well ahead of the auto industry," said Terry. "We hope we may be able to do something that will enable them to make a breakthrough.

"It's going to have to come," Farrell nodded.

"Either that," he said, "or cars are going to start coming off the road."

Japanese Asthma Spreads to L.A.

By BEN ZINER
Medical-Science Editor

Tokyo-Yokohama asthma, a smog-induced disease, has spread from the Orient to the Occident — specifically to the Los Angeles area, a physician said in Long Beach Friday.

The disclosure was made by Dr. Joseph F. Boyle, president of the Los Angeles County Medical Association. Boyle, a specialist in chest diseases, was in the city to participate in an all-day conference sponsored by the Long Beach Tuberculosis and Health Association in Long Beach Community Hospital.

Tokyo-Yokohama asthma was first observed in U. S. servicemen stationed in that area. The ailment, marked by wheezing, coughing and shortness of breath, eases when the victim leaves the smog-bound Tokyo region.

Boyle said that physicians are now seeing these patients in Los Angeles.

"After initial improvement in such places as Hawaii, these patients have had a fairly prompt recurrence of their symptoms when they arrive in Los Angeles," he said.

When these patients are put into rooms with filtered air, they again enjoy relief, he added.

BOYLE SAID doctors also are seeing Tokyo-Yokohama asthma in persons who have never been to those two cities.

"These are persons who are not smokers, not allergic and who have no medical history of chronic infection," he stated. "Yet they have developed a bronchitis which becomes worse in smog."

As a rule, victims of this ailment have little trouble during the day, he described. Trouble for them begins in the afternoon, worsens in the evening and then subsides during the night.

The cycle, he said, has been linked with the time pattern of Los Angeles air pollution.

Boyle said that some of these patients have been advised to leave the Los Angeles area.

"I know right now of two young people who are perfectly well if they stay out of the city (Los Angeles)," he asserted.

Boyle said physicians have been able to follow the progress of some of the victims of what he calls the "Los Angeles equivalent" of Tokyo-Yokohama asthma.

"Some of them have moved no farther than Palm Desert," he said. "They have no trouble out there."

An anesthesiologist who

recently moved to Los Angeles from Denver is bedeviled daily by smog, Boyle said.

"I have advised him to leave Los Angeles," he added.

Boyle said that Tokyo and nearby Yokohama have no air-pollution controls whatsoever.

"Life would be unbearable here (in Los Angeles area) if we had no controls," he noted.

A GREAT DEAL has already been achieved, he continued. Each day, industry keeps out of the atmosphere about 10,000 tons of pollutants that formerly contributed to the smog.

Unfortunately Boyle added, more vehicles add 1,000 tons a day that could also be controlled.

Man, Woman Die in 3-Car Crash

A man and a woman died Friday night in a three-car collision in the northbound lanes of the Santa Ana Freeway near Buena Park.

The Highway Patrol said the victims were in a car that plowed into the rear of another auto that stopped for traffic congestion near the Artesia Boulevard turn-off about 7 p.m. A third car piled into the wreckage.

Coroner's deputies identified one victim as Albert Stone, 57, of 2828 Westminster Place, Costa Mesa. The woman was not immediately identified.

Scientists Defend Space Fund as Best Bargain for America

By HERB SHANNON
Aerospace Editor

Scientists are increasingly concerned that space research programs will be scrapped or delayed beyond recovery because of the Vietnam conflict and other competition for the vast funds required.

This fear, repeatedly voiced during the week-long meeting of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics which concluded Friday in Anaheim Convention Center, was emphasized in a report to be published by six senior AIAA members later this year.

The report, "The Worth of the Space Program," was prepared by six prominent scientists from the fields of education, industry and government following several years of study.

"We have seen enough to know that this program is one of the best bargains the American people have ever made," declared Dr. Willard F. Libby of the UCLA Institute of Geophysics. "The returns in all walks of life are very great indeed."

Practical fringe benefits of research programs were cited by Oskar Morgenstern, Princeton University professor of economics.

"It is a well-known phenomenon that most of our important companies find that the majority of their currently offered products did not exist 10 years ago," Morgenstern said. "Their profits stem mostly from these products of research.

"It is difficult to see why these expectations should not also apply to space exploration, especially when some of the most vital discoveries of man derive from watching the stars and planets."

The Princeton economist went to the heart of the scientists' collective thinking when he compared costs of the space program with the current military effort in Southeast Asia.

"IT IS IMPORTANT to realize that annual space expenditure is only a fraction of one per cent of the Gross National Product, only about four per cent of the federal budget, and costs less than two months of the war in Vietnam," Morgenstern said. "Clearly, the country can afford a high degree space exploration."

The lack of long-range planning in space projects was decried by Dr. L. Eugene Root, president of Lockheed Missiles and Space Co.

"Experience to date clearly indicates stepping up to the long-range plan stage," Root said. "Congress should fund a program for 10 years, staff it with the best people to be found and then leave it alone."

Others who prepared portions of the report were Dr. Simon Ramo, vice chairman of the Board, TRW Systems, Inc.; Dr. T. Keith Glennan, president of Associated Universities, Washington, D.C.; and Oscar Schachter, director of research, United Nations Institute for Training and Research.

Navy to Open 13 Ships for Public Visits

Thirteen ships will be open for public visits at the Long Beach Naval Station for the Navy Day weekend.

Vessels open from 1 to 4 p.m. today and Sunday are the destroyers Fechteler, Hubbard, Pickens and Preston, all at Piers 15 and 16; the oiler Guadalupe at Pier 9; and eight ocean mine sweepers, also at Pier 9.

Visitors are advised to enter the station through Gate 1. Women are urged to wear low heels.

Torrance Weighs Urban Project

A special session of the Torrance City Council, called to discuss federal financing of urban redevelopment projects, has been set for this morning.

Discussions between councilmen and the city's redevelopment agency personnel will center upon a proposal that the Meadow Park Redevelopment Project be financed without federal aid.

City officials will also discuss an upcoming special election in which Torrance voters will be asked to decide if the city's redevelopment agency will be deactivated and if the council will be authorized to repeal the 1964 housing code.

No date has been set for the election.

I, P-T SERIES TO EXPLORE MARIJUANA

Thousands of youngsters and even some successful businessmen are "turning on" with marijuana.

They feel "grass" is safer than alcohol and that eventually "pot" will be declared legal. So widespread is the problem, enough marijuana was confiscated by authorities in 1966 to make 31 million illegal reefer.

For a comprehensive report on who is using marijuana, why they're using it and the arguments pro and con on its use, see Sunday's Independent, Press-Telegram for the first in a series that explores marijuana and its ramifications.

A COUPLE OF CATS get ready for Halloween, both attired in their spookiest garb. That's Arlon Bruce, 6, of Norwalk, hiding behind his T.H.E. CAT mask, and that's a black Persian wishing he could hide from the photographer. The cat—the four-legged one—is part of the 19th Pacific Cat Fanciers All-Breed Cat Show, today and Sunday at Municipal Auditorium.

WEEKEND AT AUDITORIUM Cat Show Slinks Into Long Beach

Meowing and purring, hissing and growling, the first elements of more than 250 anticipated contestants began arriving in Long Beach Friday evening where they will vie in the 19th annual All-Breed Cat Show of the Pacific Cat Fanciers.

Some were petulant, others eager, but most simply sat and glanced furtively at the environment that now surrounds them in the Long Beach Municipal Auditorium. They'll be there through Sunday afternoon while four judges evaluate their beauty and select everything from individual class champions to the best cat in the show.

Virtually every breed of cat will be in the show, which opens at 10 a.m. today. There'll be Siamese (in all varieties and forms), Burmese, Abyssinian, the kinky-haired Rex, Persians from Russia and Britain and wherever else Persians emanate (What? No Persian Persians?) and the extra-odd appearing Manx cat.

The Manx, according to Tujung's Charmaine Noble — who is helping to get the show under way — is strange in a lot of respects.

"He's got real high hips," she said, "which make him look like one of those teen-ager cars with the downhill look."

CAT LOVERS are every bit as snooty about their proteges as the most avid dog devotee you could mention, according to Moses Lewis, a Bell painter who spends much of his spare time fancying felines.

"They may have the least attractive cat in town but you better not tell them that. To them, their cat is something special."

Lewis was quick to point out that despite the accent on the Siamese, Manx and other assorted "name" cats, the show at the auditorium—which is co-sponsored by the Pan Pacific Cat Club and the American Cat Association in conjunction with Pacific Cat Fanciers—will not neglect the more common varieties of cats.

The local cats—Southern California varieties—will have their work cut out for them today and Sunday, Lewis' wife said. Coming in for the show are contingents from Canada, Arizona, a scattering of San Diego kitties and some more from Santa Barbara. After 18 years, the Long Beach competition has become one of the more sought-after prizes in feline competition.

Festival to Climax Reformation Sunday

450th Anniversary Fete at Auditorium

By LES RODNEY

The swelling power of "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" will resound throughout the Long Beach area Sunday as Protestants celebrate the 450th anniversary of the event credited with starting the Reformation — the nailing of 95 theses to the church door in Wittenberg by Martin Luther.

Climaxing the day will be a gala Reformation Festival in the Municipal Auditorium Concert Hall at 7:30, sponsored by the area Lutheran Ministerial Assn. and featuring an address by America's best known Lutheran leader, Rev. Dr. Paul C. Empe, general secretary of the U.S.A. National Committee of the Lutheran World Federation.

A massed choir of some 200 voices drawn from local churches, under the direction of noted choral director Wallace R. Herrewig, will sing six anthems and lead the audience in familiar and appropriate hymns.

AS A prelude to the rally, Lutheran churches will open their doors at 3 p.m. in an "Open House" designed to acquaint visitors with their liturgy, music, history, sacraments, community services and other aspects of Lutheran church life. Reformation fellowship will be the keynote, as a welcome is extended to the church and un-church alike to see "what Lutheranism is all about." Refreshments will be served.

The Open House program marks a historic step forward toward unity by the Southland's Lutheran congregations, as the first project executed here by the newly formed Lutheran Council in the U.S.A., a cooperating group which includes the three American "giant" of Lutheranism, the Lutheran Church in America, the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod, and the American Lutheran Church.

The Missouri Synod, traditionally more aloof from ecumenical ventures in the past, is not, however, part of the sponsoring group for the Municipal Auditorium meeting, though local leaders of all three groupings confidently look forward to that kind of area getting-together soon.

This is clearly foreshadowed by the fact that on a Southern California level all three are indeed cooperating in a Reformation observance the following Sunday, Nov. 5, in the Los Angeles Sports Arena, with Long Beach pastors of the three groups represented on the inter-synodical planning committee.

ON STILL another level, the 450th anniversary celebration takes place in a framework of dramatically improved relations with the Roman Catholic Church. This is due in large measure to the Vatican Councils and the renewal movement they touched off.

Next month in 14 U.S. cities, Roman Catholics and Lutherans will hold friendly theological discussions in connection with the Reformation anniversary. On the international level, "heartly greetings" have been extended by the Vatican, through ecumenical leader Augustin Cardinal Bea, to the Lutheran World Federation, noting the "new fellowship" in evidence between Catholics and Lutherans.

Observers in both camps agree that all this basically signifies a long overdue correction of elementary relationships among Christians, and is not an indication of anything more fundamental happening in the foreseeable future between Lutherans and Catholics.

CO-CHAIRMAN of the Municipal Auditorium observance, Revs. Virgil F. Bjerke of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church and George S. Norman of Mount Olivet Lutheran Church of Lakewood, expressed gratification in the response to the event.

"It is really exciting to be privileged to have Dr. Empe, who could be called 'Mr. Lutheran,'" says Pastor Bjerke, "He is truly a leading figure, such a capable, interesting personality, so warm and articulate. He will have something to say not only to Lutherans, but to everybody. He is ecumenical in the right sense of that word."

Pastor Norman commented "We are all enthusiastic about these affairs involving the various synods of the Lutheran Church. It is expected that the various congregations will become much better acquainted, and will participate in other joint activities. We anticipate that future Long Beach Reformation rallies will also include our brothers of the Missouri Synod." He added to Pastor Bjerke's appraisal of the importance of Dr. Empe's appearance.

Empe, prior to assuming his present position, had spent 18 years as executive director of the National Lutheran Council, during which time the council's membership was reduced from eight to two bodies through mergers.

The 57-year-old churchman also played a major role in the planning and negotiations for the NLC's successor, the new Lutheran Council which includes the Missouri Synod in a joint program of theological study and Christian service.

HE ALSO has been a powerhouse in the American arm of Lutheran World Action, which provides most of the funds for the universally applauded relief, reconstruction and inter-church programs in Europe, Africa, Asia and Latin America. The versatile Dr. Empe was also president of Lutheran Film Associates, which produced and distributed three major works which won high critical acclaim: "Martin Luther," "Question 7" and "A Time for Burning."

In 1961, he received the Commander's Cross from the Federal Republic of Germany in recognition of his leadership in church reconstruction, material aid and refugee resettlement. He was a special guest of the U.S. Air Force inspecting spiritual services throughout the Pacific and Far East.

Accompanying the massed choir Sunday night at the Auditorium will be the Long Beach City College brass ensemble.

Local Leaders

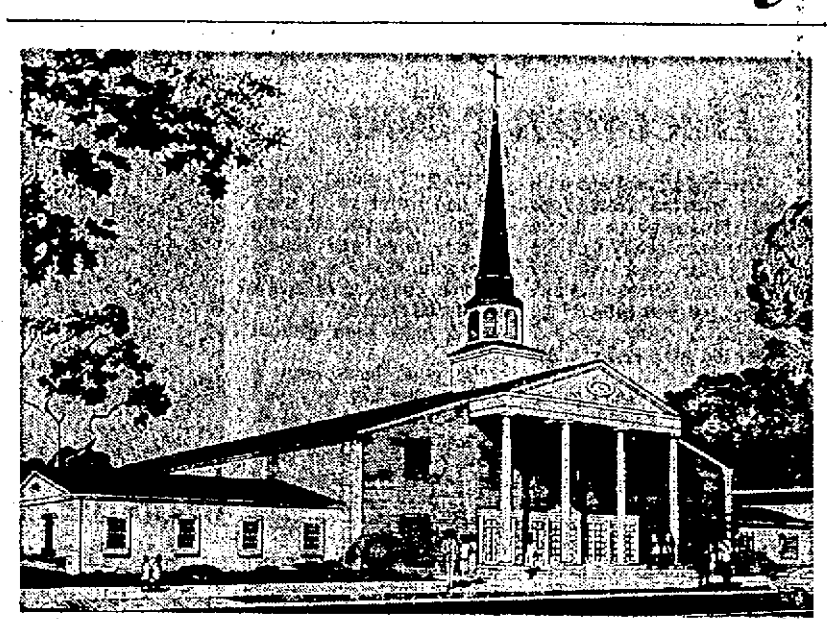

at GLASS Confab

Prof. G. B. Gordon of Pacific Christian College will be one of the principal speakers at the Greater Los Angeles Sunday School Assn. (GLASS) slated for three days starting Thursday at First Baptist of Pomona.

Rev. Harold Carlson of First Baptist of Lakewood will conduct a workshop for superintendents on "The Secret of Successful Personal Contacts." Other speakers are Dr. Max Rafferty, evangelist Dr. Merv Rosell and Ted Cole.

Methodist Mark

A new record of service to annual conferences and local congregations of the Methodist Church was posted last year by the denomination's corps of professional fund-raisers. They led 457 financial crusades in which $80,443,000 was raised, surpassing the previous record total, set in 1965, by $2,870,000.

CONFIDENT LIVING

How to Avoid Becoming Sour

One night years ago on a train between New York and Pittsburgh a friend came unexpectedly into the dining car and plumped into a chair across from me. "What are you eating?" he demanded. "Any good? I never did get a decent meal on a train."

This remark didn't check out, however. I never saw a man stow away so much food so fast. When he had finished eating everything in sight he asked, "Isn't this awful — a terrible train? We should have our heads examined for riding on these lumbering trucks," he growled.

"Oh, I wouldn't say that. Seems like a pretty good train to me. You might say it's a gleaming institution of shining steel speeding through the night, over mountains, rivers and plains, embodying romance in every detail of its operation. Just listen to that long, low, mournful whistle among the hills."

"Romance!" he snorted. "What do you mean, romance? There is no such thing in this lousy world."

"What is the matter with you, Fred?" I asked. "You didn't used to be so negative. How come these dark thoughts? Why so low and gloomy?"

"OH, LET'S FACE IT," he said. "I'm not up to par. I'm tired and nervous. No wonder I'm discouraged and gloomy, with all the aches and pains I've got about half the time and

"Well," I grinned, "guess we had better go to work on you. When you sat down at this table you should have said, 'Gee, I'm glad to see you. I'm going to have a wonderful dinner!'"

"I'd have been dishonest." "It must have been a good dinner the way you gobbled up every bit of it. Then you should have said, 'This is a wonderful train and a beautiful world and life is good and tomorrow is going to be a great day.'"

He stared at me. "I can't talk like that — sounds stupid, pollyannish."

"Oh, yes, you can if you start reconditioning your mind. And, believe me, you'd better, or you're likely to become a soured, morose guy."

A pathetic look came into his eyes. I liked Fred. But he was struggling so hard with life — so unnecessarily hard. I proceeded to give him quite a sales talk on the value of the cheerful attitude, reminding him of Samuel Johnson's statement that a bright attitude is worth a thousand pounds a year.

"In our money that would be about $3,000, Fred. Or on the basis of inflation, maybe $10,000. So you're losing money. Think and look on the hopeful and appreciative side," I said, "and things will go better and you will feel better. Better start practicing it right away."

Next morning when we arrived in Pittsburgh an overcast sky threatened rain. Leaving the train I heard the porter say to Fred, "Did you have a good night?" "NOT TOO GOOD," was the reply. Then as I caught up with him he looked a bit sheepish. "Oh, hello. Boy, isn't this a beautiful morning!" He was learning fast.

He really did follow through. His wife told me later that, to her astonishment, he practiced affirming happiness and health every morning. And it worked, too, for he did overcome his dullness and gloom. He learned to live with vibrancy. He got over being dead while he lived.

Fred really caught on. Result: his whole outlook changed, and recently when I ran into him on a plane headed for Denver he remarked, "Remember that train trip 20 years ago? Well, believe me, from that day on I changed. Gosh, suppose I hadn't? What kind of sour specimen would I be today?"

DRAMA AT ARMED SERVICES...Y

Karen Thompson, president of the Girls Service Organization will portray a dramatic role in the Armed Services YMCA Sock & Buskin Players production of "Which Way the Wind?" by Philip C. Lewis, Sunday 7:30 p.m. at the Y. The 45 minute docu-drama, first produced in 1959 has been called intense, at times humorous, and the kind of play to provoke thought and discussion. Also appearing will be Kevin Bechen, SA, USCGC Heather; Ronald Craigen, SA, Naval Station; Sidney Trevethan, ETR3, USS Waddell, with Allan Elmore, SN, USS Princeton as understudy. The play will also be performed Nov. 5 at Covenant Presbyterian Church.

GOINGS ON

The Landmark Quartet of Cincinnati, noted Midwest gospel quartet heard on TV, and on the Landmark Hour radio program, will be featured Sunday, 7 p.m. at Calvary Baptist of Bellflower, 14719 Ardis Ave. With them is Rev. Harold Rawlings, called "the Spurgeon of today." One of the quartet members, Don Norman, was formerly with the Harvesters, heard in Long Beach Auditorium concerts. . . Virginia M. Satir, director of training, Family Project, Mental Research Institute of Palo Alto, will discuss "Communication, a Basis for Human Communication and Growth" Sunday, 8 p.m. in Pacific Unitarian, 5621 Montemalaga Drive. This is the ninth annual Harry A. Shuder Memorial Address, honoring the founding minister, who was an Army chaplain in two World Wars, retiring as a colonel. . . To observe Reformation Sunday, the Second Samoan Congregational Christian Church will worship Sunday, 9:30 a.m. with Woodruff United Church of Christ, 3908 Woodruff Ave., with their choir singing anthems in their native language.

Dr. Robert McAfee Brown, Stanford professor of religion and one of the Protestant observers at Vatican II, will speak at UC-Irvine in Campus Hall Thursday, 8 p.m. on "Religion in a Secular World" . . . A conference for ministers of the Universal Church of the Master will be held today at International Tower, 666 E. Ocean Blvd., with the public invited to attend the rally starting at 8 p.m. The sponsors say there will be "miniature interviews and healing services."

WORLD COMMUNITY DAY

Churchwomen Aid Viet Women, Kids

Long Beach area churchwomen from 57 churches, along with 13 million sister Christians throughout the world, will observe World Community Day next Friday, Nov. 3 starting at 10 a.m. in Los Altos Methodist Church, 5950 E. Willow St.

Focus this year is on aiding the women and children of war-torn South Vietnam with gifts of layettes, materials for making clothing, and blankets. There are an estimated one million refugees alone in South Vietnam who urgently need this kind of help, the sponsors say.

The event is sponsored by the Long Beach Council of Church Women United, with Mrs. Harold E. Schoessow president. There are 2,400 local and state councils of the organization in the country.

Edwin Sanders, youth secretary of the southwest region of the American Friends Service Committee will be the featured speaker. Theme for the day is "Who Shall Separate Us?"

Mrs. J. A. Sprague, area delegate to the Ecumenical Conference of the Church, Women United, will report on that meeting. Mrs. John G. Hoeft, spiritual life chairman, has written the service of worship. Luncheon will be served, by reservation.

As in past years, Belmont Van and Storage Co. has offered its services to transport the aid materials to the Church World Service warehouse in Pasadena, where it is processed for shipment to its destination.

Knowledge of God

We were always meant to know God . . . to be deeply aware of His infinite nature and power . . . and to follow where this knowledge leads in working out our salvation. The Bible speaks of it often. It's the most fundamental knowledge there is, and it requires prayerful study and consistent practice. Christian Science church services offer assistance to those who seek this knowledge. You are always welcome, any Sunday or Wednesday.

L.B. Area's Vital Church Life Is Reflected in Interesting, Varied Activities

The vitality, range and interest of the Long Beach area's church life is well reflected by this pictorial sampling of guests and programs, all of which, incidentally, deserve the attention of the entire community, including those not now involved in church activities.

A nationally leading theologian-educator heading an area-wide evangelism emphasis, a noted clinical psychologist and lay leader presented in a series of supper lectures, an author-educator who addresses himself to today's teenager, a woman missionary helping bring literacy to the Quechua Indians of Bolivia, a forceful spokesman for preservation of religious liberty, a former concert pianist turned religious lecturer, and a business man-pacifist who put his controversial convictions on the line.

Plus, of course, the big United Reformation rally featured elsewhere on these pages, a play by active duty servicemen at the Y, rousing gospel concert at the Auditorium, fine events in "Goings On," etc.

If there is anyplace in Southern (or northern) California topping the Long Beach area for stimulating and meaningful church-centered activity, well — we don't think there is.

DR. RICHARD HOGAN

Psychologist in Lectures

Richard A. Hogan, Ph. D., clinical psychologist, will be presented to the community by Covenant Presbyterian Church, 607 E. Third St., in a series of four Wednesday lectures on "Provoking One Another to Love," starting Wednesday, 7 p.m. Supper will be served at 6:15, with reservations.

Dr. Hogan was head of the Psychology Department and dean of students at Pepperdine before going into private practice in Downey. He has been a Sunday School teacher in Long Beach 19 years, for the Church of Christ.

DR. EDWARDS

Evangelism Talks Hosted

A leading Methodist theologian-educator will be presented Sunday, 7 p.m., as Grace Methodist Church, 2425 E. Third St., hosts the first of three consecutive Sunday night sessions on evangelistic renewal.

Dr. K. Morgan Edwards, Gerald Kennedy professor of preaching at the School of Theology, Claremont, author, and chairman of the conference board of evangelism, stresses the need for a return to the theology of John Wesley to meet the needs of today's world, and invites all, not only Methodists.

Dr. Edwards was selected to give the Jackson Lec-

DR. DeHAAN

Specialist With Teens

Several hundred teenagers are expected to gather at El Dorado Park Community Church, 3655 Norwalk Blvd., tonight at 7 to listen to and shoot questions at Dr. Robert de Haan, chairman of education at Hope College, Mich., and author of several books on teen problems. All interested teens are invited.

tures at Southern Methodist University last year, and has also delivered the Willson Lectures at Texas Tech and Oklahoma City U. Following his talks at Grace, there will be "talk back" sessions.

G. SETTEMBRINI

Sees Crisis in Liberties

"America's Religious Liberty Crisis" will be discussed by Gioele Settembrini Sunday, 11 a.m. in Truett Memorial Baptist Church, 3435 San Anselmo Ave.

Settembrini, a native of Italy, has been for the past 10 years director of church relations for Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State. It is his belief that religious liberty is now endangered by a legislative trend to subsidize church institutions and use churches as an arm of government. All are invited to the 900-seat sanctuary.

MRS. SHERMAN

Translator for Quechuas

Grace Sherman, who works with the Wycliffe Bible Translators among the Quechua Indians in Bolivia, will be guest speaker Sunday, 11 a.m. in the Latin American Methodist Church, 1350 Redondo Ave.

Nearly a million of the Quechuas live in the highlands of Bolivia, a poverty stricken shadow of the ancient Inca civilization. Wycliffe is working with the American Bible Society on putting the Bible into their own language. The WBT have 2,000 members working in 18 countries.

PHIL DRATH

On Disputed 'Phoenix'

Phil Drath, Northern California building contractor who was a crew member of the controversial trip of the yacht "Phoenix" to deliver medical supplies to North Vietnam, candidate for Congress last year, and leader in the American Friends Service Committee, will speak and show the film "Voyage of the Phoenix" Wednesday, 8 p.m. in Unitarian Church, 5450 Atherton Ave.

After World War II, Mr. and Mrs. Drath were prominent in helping displaced Japanese-Americans returning to California life.

G. L. MORNING

Pianist Now Lecturer

Glenn L. Morning of San Francisco will give a Christian Science lecture, "What Determines Your Standpoint?" on Monday, 8 p.m. in Fourth Church, 201 E. Market St.

Morning did graduate work in piano and composition at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, and traveled as a concert pianist until 1955, when he was accredited in the Christian Science healing ministry. He is currently on a national tour.

BRIEFLY...

Meet the Navy, Council & Alcohol, a Farewell

Sixty members of the Long Beach Ministerial Union went Navy this week. After lunch with the chaplains at the Officers Club, Chaplain Lt. Cmdr. S. C. Schade, with the assistance of the film "Chaplains in Action," told of their work in Vietnam.

"The chief job of the chaplain is to see and be seen," Schade said, "and his principal locations are hospital areas at or near the actual war zones."

Private institutions of civic welfare are another of the chaplains' responsibilities in Vietnam, he added. "Since these are run by Buddhists, it has been necessary to chip away their resistance until now our help is accepted."

"Chaplains from ships are rotated to duty with the Marines in the fighting area, and they eat, sleep and move with the men."

The ministers were given guided tours of the Aircraft Carrier Bon Homme Richard by Chaplain Commander M. C. Insko and his staff, then a lecture in the Air Intelligence briefing room gave them some idea of the ship in action.

Another interesting meeting is in store for the clerics Nov. 28, advises Rev. James Deemer, president, with the subject "A Cool Look at the Long, Hot Summer as It Concerns Long Beach."

IF ANYONE was startled to read a wire service story saying that the National Council of Churches had endorsed something called "Alcohol Problems: A Report to the Nation," which proposed "that Americans accentuate the positive aspects of drinking," — so was the National Council of Churches, says Rev. Dr. Carroll L. Shuster, president of the Southern California Council.

Declares Dr. Shuster: "Neither the National Council of Churches nor any of its agencies has endorsed" the report. He added that they haven't even seen it yet, and reminded that the Southern California Council has held the position of opposing the use of alcoholic beverages.

ONE OF Martin Luther's enduring contributions was "the principle of criticism of the church," writes a Roman Catholic scholar in the current issue of Lutheran World, theological quarterly.

Rev. Stephen Pfuertner of Switzerland, states "... he was historically most effective in deriving a process of critical awareness of the church from his theological basic principle, whether of justification or the gospel. With the confession to God's sovereignty in the whole event of salvation, he demanded that the competence and effectiveness of the church and all created institutions be called critically into question."

Father Pfuertner, referring to a Vatican II statement that the church "is at the same time holy and always in need of being purified," declared that this is only meaningful when "the church as a whole, in all its functions, confesses itself as both holy and sinful and when basically no office, no member is excluded from this confession, not even the teaching pastoral office. The Decree on Ecumenism hints at such consequences."

THE AMERICAN Council of Christian Churches, fundamentalist grouping which met in Santa Monica this week, was certainly within its province in giving its own views on the role of other churchmen in civil strife. A resolution passed unanimously stated that the Council "challenges as unbiblical and immoral the conduct of church leaders in the United States who engage in mass civil disobedience, rioting ... An ecclesiastical leadership which promotes revolution to destroy our structures of freedom is an abomination to the Lord and causes the Communists to rejoice."

However, since they have always insisted that the

CHURCH HUMOR

National Council of Churches and the mainline Protestant denominations have no business addressing themselves to problems like Vietnam, in which, they hold, churchmen are lacking in competence, perhaps the churchmen assembled in Santa Monica were guilty of inconsistency when they also stated by unanimous vote: "The one answer to our troubles in Vietnam is victory!"

LONG BEACH, as well as First Baptist Church, will miss Margaret Lloyd, whose ministry to children at "Tenth and Pine" was marked by highly creative warmth and enthusiasm. Miss Lloyd will be married to a Presbyterian pastor of Brooklyn, N.Y., in — very fittingly — First Baptist, on New Year's Eve.

Long Beach Goals Center Will Aim to Involve the Community

Designed to help involve citizens in the decision making processes for a better Long Beach, "Centers for Choice," a local arm of the Los Angeles Regional

Says First Baptist's pastor, Dr. Frank M. Kepner: "Margaret has meant a very great deal to our church in many ways ... I have personally appreciated her commitment to Christ, her sense of dedication, her continuing growth in her chosen area of service, and her loyalty to both pastor and church."

Miss Lloyd may be sure that many Long Beach children whose lives she touched will never forget her.

Long Beach's loss is certainly Brooklyn's gain.

Goals Project, will open up Monday night, 7:30 in First Church of the Brethren, 3332 Magnolia Ave.

It will continue Monday through Friday from 1 to 3 p.m. on a regular basis, and other times by appointment.

Through exhibits prepared by groups in the community, through classes, youth visits, dialogue and reaction, the Center hopes to stimulate public participation in the comprehensive planning for the future.

The Center will also be the scene of discussions between representatives of different groups on specific issues.

Keynote speaker for the formal opening will be Rev. John Wagner Jr., director of the Interreligious Committee of the L.A. Regional Goals Project.

In a letter to area churches, Rev. C. LeRoy Doty Jr., and Rev. Don Lindholm, president and executive secretary of the Long Beach Area Council of Churches, said "This Center for Choice affords the religious community the opportunity to publicly express God's purposes for humanity in The Creation. We have the chance to enter into a religious dialogue which will be audited by public officials and eventually influence people across our entire nation."

The unusual observance is the result of efforts by the host pastor, Rev. Earl W. Isbell, who as president of the Compton Ministerial Assn. was instrumental in bringing Father Romero into membership. Currently Father Romero is vice president of the association.

Rev. Isbell, also a pioneer in race relations, was organizing president of Compton Council on Human Relations, credited with a role in changing the climate of that city toward one of Negro-white cooperation.

First Methodist at 146 W. Compton Blvd., celebrating its 100th year in the city, is, in the words of Rev. Isbell "a racially inclusive congregation and offers an opportunity to experience positively and in a Christian way the important dimension of today's living, fellowship among those of different racial backgrounds."

Father Romero, who has taught classics at St. Charles College and is a periodic book reviewer for "The Catholic Biblical Quarterly" formerly served in St. Athanasius Church of Long Beach.

Private Rites Set for Gospel Singer

CHARLES W. TURNER

Private graveside services will be conducted by Patterson & Snively Mortuary for Charles W. Turner, gospel singer and former staff announcer for radio station KGER of Long Beach.

Turner died Thursday in a Van Nuys hospital a week after being involved in a freeway accident. He was 50.

A NATIVE of Linville, Iowa, Turner came to Long Beach in 1921 and graduated from Poly High. He was soloist and a member of the famed Haven of Rest Quartet for 16 years before going into the evangelistic field on tours with Billy Graham, Dr. J. Edwin Orr, Merv Rosell and Hyman Appleman.

He began the Air Mail From God radio program and was co-founder of World Missions, Inc. with Dr. Leonard J. Bell. He is perhaps most widely known for his many gospel albums under the title "Charles Turner Sings."

Surviving is his wife, Fanchon N. of the home address in Sepulveda; a son, Larry C.; daughters, Mrs. Charlene F. Blackmon, Mrs. Patricia A. Geer, and a grandchild.

The family suggests memorial contributions to Lambda Theta Chi, a Christian sorority founded by Mrs. Turner, 8604 Haskell St., Sepulveda, or to World Missions Inc., Box 2611, Long Beach.

Service Set Monday for Mrs. Wales

Services will be held Monday at 3:30 p.m. in Mottell's Mortuary for Annie Mead Wales, who was born April 4, 1882, in New Orleans, and outlived three husbands.

Mrs. Wales, who lived in Long Beach 49 years, the last few of them as a lively and beloved patient in St. Christopher's Convalescent Hospital, died Thursday at the age of 105½.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Edna Huntington of Long Beach, a granddaughter, Claudia Hunter, and a great-granddaughter, Mrs. Bernard Daniel.

Burt Fitzgerald Rite Scheduled Today at 12:30

Services will be held today at 12:30 p.m. in Pacific View Memorial Park, Corona del Mar, for Burt H. Fitzgerald, construction contractor who died Wednesday in Oxnard.

Fitzgerald, who resided at 320 Prospect Ave., was engaged in the construction of a Navy installation at Port Huene when he was stricken. He was 57.

Surviving are his wife, Chona; a son, Michael, of Long Beach; a brother, Peter; and a sister, Margaretta Fitzgerald.

Roy Haskell Funeral Due at 2 Today

Funeral services for Roy D. Haskell, long-time owner and operator of Haskell Hardware Co. here, will be at 2 p.m. today at Patterson & Snively Chapel, 555 Locust Ave.

Haskell, 76, of 273 Belmont Ave., died Wednesday after a long illness. For 20 years, he operated the hardware shop under his name at 1834 Atlantic Ave.

Born in Iowa, he came to Long Beach in 1922.

He is survived by his wife, Velma; a daughter, Mrs. Miriam Williams; a sister, Mrs. Nelle Dewey, all of Long Beach; and six grandchildren.

Lancers Crush Poly Title Hopes

By TOM BARDEEN
Lakewood's Lancers gained the edge in the Moore League football chase Friday night, defeating Long Beach Poly, 13-6, before nearly 16,000 at Veterans Stadium.

Now tied with Wilson High with a 2-0 record, the 1967 league race appears to be a repeat of last year's when the Lancers downed Wilson in the final game to become champion.

Lakewood's defense proved the difference against Poly — holding the Rabbits scoreless until the third quarter. It smacked down several Poly threats off.

Quarterback Mike Rae supplied the first punch, sweeping right end for 12 yards and a first down to the Lancers' own 37.

Utilizing fullback Al Lemmerman on crucial plays, the Lancers moved downfield on a series of grinding runs. He bolted for six yards to the Poly 48 for the second of five first downs on the drive, then plunged for an important three yards when Lakewood seemed to bog down.

Rae, the game's outstanding player, took up where Lemmerman left off on the Poly 26. Lemmerman had smashed for six yards to the 26, then Rae passed to slotback Larry Martinez to the Poly 14.

Poly's Jack Curedon nailed Martinez for a five-yard loss on the next play, but Rae threw to Martinez again, this time to the Poly five.

It was Lemmerman's turn again, and he plunged the remaining distance to score. Steve Arnold kicked the conversion, providing Lakewood with what proved to be the deciding point.

The Lancers didn't let up. Catching the Rabbits napping with an on-side kick-off, Rae recovered and the Lancers again were in business.

And six plays later, Lakewood had scored its second touchdown, traveling 50 yards in six plays. A penalty and the Rae-Martinez passing combination provided the punch. The big gain was a 22-yard pass to Martinez, completed although tacklers nearly had thrown Rae to the ground.

Rae threw to Martinez for nine yards to the Poly nine, and three plays later Rae plunged one yard for the score. The first period ended with Lakewood kicking off.

Neither team could score in the second quarter, but an inspired Poly returned to the field after the intermission and staged its touchdown-producing effort.

Thurman Anderson carried Poly's running load. He scrambled for good chunks of yardage on 10 of the 16 plays it required to move the 48 yards.

Quarterback Bill Brown ran a portion of the Rabbits' offense, and set up the TD at the Lakewood one-yard-line, where Anderson plunged over.

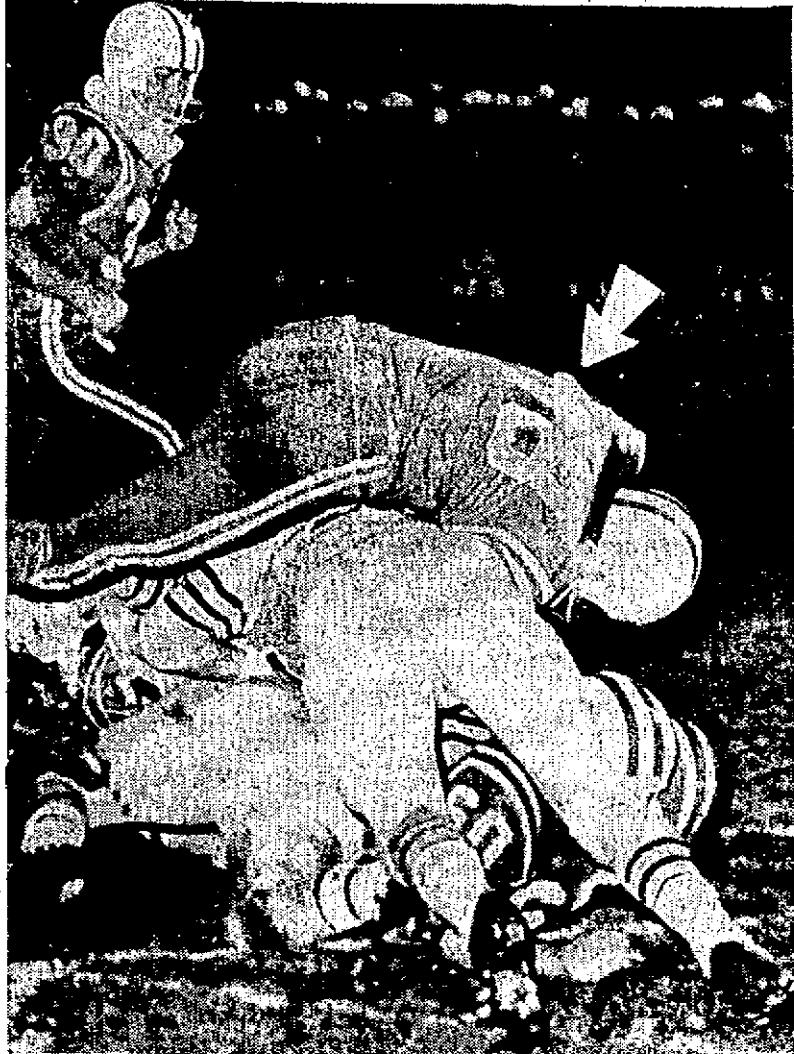

Lakewood's defense settled down following the Rabbit score, nailing Poly for key losses. Each team's defensive line thwarted scoring opportunities in the remaining minutes.

Nicklaus (62) Leads Sahara — 'He's in Another World'

By DAVE LEWIS
Staff Writer

LAS VEGAS — Jack Nicklaus combined brilliant iron play and putting with a awesome driving power here Friday to shoot a spectacular nine-under-par 62 and forge into the lead of the $111,111 Sahara Invitational with a 54-hole total of 199.

Posting the lowest competitive round of his career as he equalled the course record at Paradise Valley Country Club set by Dick trous 76 on the opening round. He starts the final round, however, in an eight way tie for 29th, 13 strokes behind Nicklaus.

If the two retain their present positions, Jack will wrest the lead from Arnie in their tense battle for the 1967 money title.

The $20,000 first prize would give Nicklaus official earnings of $188,998 — approximately $6,000 more than Palmer unless the latter is able to improve his position considerably. His present standing would bring him only about $662.

Goalby, who played in the same threesome as Nicklaus, best summed up the leader's great day when he said, "I felt I shot a fine round. In fact, I'll take a 68 any time. But Jack made Frank Beard and myself look like duffers. He played some of the greatest golf shots I've ever seen."

"Frank turned to me halfway through the round and said 'I feel like we shouldn't even be out here,' and I replied, 'the only thing to do is forget what he's doing. He's in another world.'"

Nicklaus carded two eagles for the second straight day. He also posted six birdies while slipping only once — taking a bogey five on the 15th when he missed a four-foot putt after making a great recovery from a bad lie in the rough.

He also barely missed three more birdie putts which could have given him a remarkable 59. He blew a four-footer on the 8th by a fraction of an inch, saw an 18-footer on the 12th roll right over the hole and watched a 15-footer on the 18th lip the cup as it slid three inches past.

The first of Nicklaus' two eagles came on the 380-yard, par-four 10th. After a tremendous 295-yard drive, he holed out an 85-yard wedge shot. "It was as solid and crisp a wedge as I ever remember hitting," Jack said. "It skipped once about six feet in front of the hole and then rolled in."

He then caged the par-

When Fred Schaus paid Archie Clark a salary befitting a coming superstar, he no doubt told the young Laker guard to start playing like one.

Clark, a disappointment in the Lakers' first three games — probably due to his salary squabbles — turned on the talent Friday night and combined with Elgin Baylor to outfight the hustling Chicago Bulls, 125-117.

A small crowd of 6,301 in the L.A. Sports Arena watched the Lakers win their fourth game in six tries but also battle down to the final minute before subduing the winless Bulls.

Clark, named the "Star of Stars" for the second successive game, scored a career high of 39 points and made a three-point play with 36 seconds remaining that broke a 117-117 tie.

Baylor was equally outstanding with 27 points, 20 rebounds and 11 assists. The Laker captain set up Clark's winning basket with a perfect pass and also assisted on another Clark lay-in with six seconds to go. He completed a great night by stealing a pass and dunking a shot at the buzzer.

The Lakers hit a fantastic 58 per cent from the field, led by Clark's 15 of 21 and Baylor's 11 of 19. Every Laker except John Wetzel and Mel Counts made at least 50 per cent of their shots, and Counts just missed with 5 of 11.

Clark, who signed for an estimated $40,000, poured in 22 points in the first half, but then he got in foul trouble and was benched for nine minutes in the third period.

Counts and Tom Hawkins also had foul problems and it enabled the Bulls to make up a 15-point deficit.

Bob Boozer, who netted 36 points in the season opener in Chicago, tried to ruin his former teammates again with a fantastic 42-point, 16-rebound effort.

Boozer scored 25 of his total after intermission when the Bulls scrambled Lakers back in business. After Erwin Mueller and Mel Counts exchanged baskets, Clark took Baylor's perfect pass for the key basket at 0:36.

With their super shot-making, the Lakers should have won easily, but they made 22 ball-control errors and took numerous bad shots at one stretch midway in the final quarter.

Gail Goodrich gave another strong performance with 18 points, but the other reserves, Counts and Jim Barnes, were subpar. Counts had 12 rebounds and as many points, but went to sleep on defense a couple of times.

"It's a tough way to make a living," said coach Bill Van Breda Kolff, who is enjoying a three-game winning streak.

"It sure as hell is" echoed Chicago coach Johnny Kerr, whose easy-going manner was stretched to the hilt by questionable officiating against his club.

A year ago the expansion Bulls were leading the Western Division. With zero wins in seven tries this campaign, Mr. Kerr has the right to blow a fuse.

The lead changed hands four times after that and Boozer put his club ahead on three occasions. It was Keith Erickson's follow shot at 1:35 that looked to be the turning point, though, as it gave the Bulls a 115-112 edge.

But Baylor picked up a loose ball under the basket and converted it into a three-point play to put the Sikes when he won the 1964 Sahara, Nicklaus came from four swings off the pace to take a one-stroke advantage over young Steve Spray with just 18 holes remaining today.

Spray, who started the day with a two-stroke lead, held on surprisingly well under the tremendous pressure applied by Nicklaus and wound up with a fine 67 for a three-round total of 200. Bob Goalby produced a 68 for 203 and third place ahead of Terry Dill at 205.

Arnold Palmer came back with his second 68 in a row following his disas-

ALSTON DENIES QUITTING

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — Walter Alston will probably step down as manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers within a week and be replaced by Preston Gomez, the San Juan Star said in its Saturday edition.

Baseball writer Tito Stevens said he has learned that Gomez, who is currently managing the San Juan Senators of the Puerto Rican Winter League, is to leave for Los Angeles over the weekend.

Gomez himself declared: "It's news to me. It's the first time I heard about it."

At his home in Darrtown, Ohio, Alston declared, "I don't know anything about it." He said he had not discussed anything of the sort with Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers.

Floyd 6-5 Choice to Rock Quarry—Jerry Predicts KO

By HANK HOLLINGWORTH

The most heralded Southern California boxing match in years will take place this afternoon (repeat AFTERNOON) when heavyweight contenders Jerry Quarry and Floyd Patterson meet to decide who will advance in the unique elimination tournament to determine a successor to dethroned Cassius Clay.

The fight will be held at Olympic Auditorium, but a special closed-circuit television audience will view the affair at L. A. Sports Arena. The all-heavyweight card gets under way at 1 p.m., with the Quarry-Patterson feature commencing at 3 p.m.

Box offices at both emporiums will open at 9 a.m. Tickets — ranging from $30 to $10 at the Olympic and $5 at the Arena — are available.

Wide World of Sports will televise the fight nationally, but the showing will be blacked-out within a 150-mile radius of Los Angeles. Wide World also will beam the match by satellite into Europe.

After opening as underdog, Patterson now is the 6-5 favorite, Patterson, 32, of New York, the only veteran in the elimination tourney, and Quarry, 22, of Bellflower, fought to a 10-round draw June 9th in the Coliseum. This time their event will be extended to 12 rounds, or possibly less.

In that first affair, Quarry decked Floyd — a two-time heavyweight king — twice in the second round, with Patterson putting down Quarry in the seventh.

With the exuberance of youth, the explosive Quarry has predicted that he will knock out Patterson within seven rounds.

"I should have the first time," said Quarry on the eve of the rematch. "When I floored Patterson twice in that second round, I was too excited to finish him. He's an old pro. He knew his way around. He got me on the ropes late in the fight and I couldn't get away. This time it'll be different."

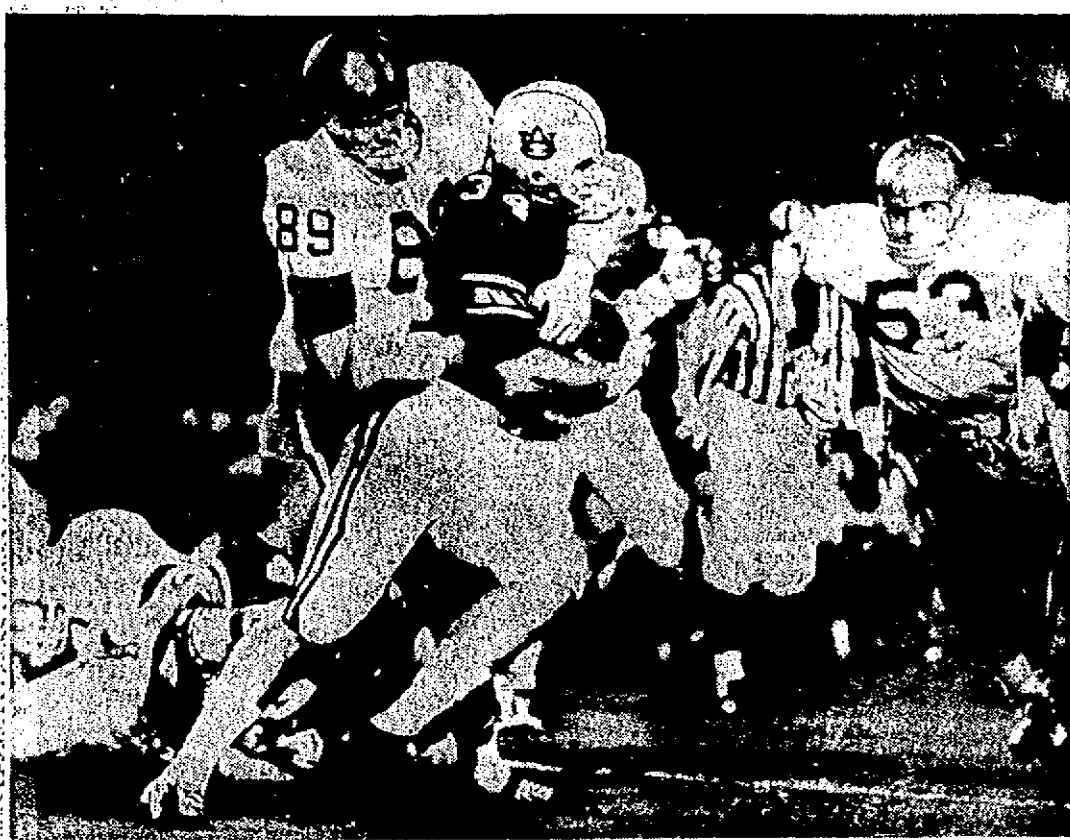

Staid Patterson's only comment: "I never predict. This is a good, young fighter. But I expect to beat him. There's too much at stake."

Much is at stake, indeed. Both men are guaranteed $50,000 for this afternoon's work, with the winner advancing to a $75,000-guarantee bout, then a possible $125,000 championship fight.

The winner is scheduled to meet Thad Spencer in the tourney semifinals. Oscar, reportedly sidelined earlier with a back injury in South America, returned to training this week. The other semi-final bout pairs Oscar Bonavena and Jimmy Ellis.

Miami Steals Victory

MIAMI (AP) — Defensive end Phil Smith intercepted a pitchout by Auburn quarterback Larry Blakeney and raced 35 yards for a touchdown Friday night as Miami beat the Tigers 7-0 in a bitter defensive battle in the Orange Bowl.

Auburn was in possession on its own 42 when Smith, a 6-foot-2, 208-pound senior from College Park, Ga., snatched the pitchout and romped untouched for his first touchdown as a collegian.

Technically, the play was ruled a fumble recovery.

Auburn's only serious threat came in the second quarter when starting quarterback Loran Carter's pass was deflected and fell into the hands of Tiger fullback Dwight Hurston who scampered 30 yards to the Miami 10 before being hauled down from behind.

Auburn's Al Griffin rammed four yards to the six but Carter was thrown for a six-yard loss on the next play by Miami's Bob Tatek and Carter's pass on third down was incomplete.

John Riley then failed on the first of three field goal attempts.

Downey Rips Rams, 10-3

Undefeated Downey stayed that way Friday with a 10-3 Moore League water polo victory over Millikan. Behind Greg Vanley's seven goals, Lakewood beat Jordan, 13-10, while Poly edged Wilson, 5-4.

Millikan's One-Two Punch Too Much for Jordan, 28-6

Quarterback Rand Rasmussen and halfback Mike Liebeck—the team's one-two punch—combined to lead Millikan High's Rams to a convincing 28-6 Moore League football victory Friday night over Jordan.

Rasmussen, opening the scoring with a 44-yard first quarter touchdown pass, completed six of 13 attempts for 103 yards. And

Liebeck—scoring three times—carried the ball 20 times for 121 yards as the Millikan put the game out of reach with a four-yard Liebeck sprint in the second quarter. Jordan's John Edwards then ran 47 yards for the loser's only touchdown.

it was left to the St. Anthony defense to repel two significant Serra threats after intermission.

With a 3-0 league record and 6-0 over-all mark still intact, the Saints host undefeated Notre Dame next in a passport to the CIF playoffs.

St. Anthony had its eye on Notre Dame Friday night although it was confronted by a team which had defeated Loyola the week before and was now celebrating its homecoming.

Inspired Serra won the battles but lost the war. It held an advantage in every statistical department, but was unable to score the decisive touchdown.

The Cavaliers penetrated to the St. Anthony nine in the third quarter when Manny Magana rose up to throw quarterback Tim Boyer for a 15-yard loss on fourth down.

In the final period, after a poor St. Anthony punt presented Serra with the ball on the visitors' 27, Mike Simone made the fourth-down tackle on the 19.

Offensively, the Saints failed to complete a pass and accumulated just 133 yards on the ground. Greg Schilling sprinted for 28 of them to ignite a 54-yard first quarter drive which was capped on the sixth play by George Chabon's 11-yard run. Larry Guesno kicked the important PAT. Serra struck back in the second quarter, marching 57 yards in 13 plays with Boyer passing the final four to Leon Beauchman. Boyer's placement tied the game.

It then became a defensive struggle with a St. Anthony punt placing Serra in the shadow of its own goal as the clock displayed one minute left in the half. The Cavaliers reached the five and on fourth down were in punt formation. The pass from center, however, was high, sailed out of the end zone untouched and it proved to be clear sailing for the Saints.

opener last week by a 53-0 count. After racking up a 25-0 lead at halftime, Wilson coach Owen Dixon substituted freely as the Bruins kept pace with Lakewood. Both display 2-0 records in league competition.

Following a relatively even first period during which the only score came on Rex Hoover's two-yard plunge, the Bruins exploded for 19 points in the second quarter.

Hoover bucked over from six yards out early in the period and then reserve quarterback Jeff Burroughs hooked up with end Mike Leininger on a 37-yard touchdown pass. Scatback Dante Lobato—all 5-8, 165 pounds of him—scored the first of his two touchdowns on a 25-yard scamper late in the period.

Lobato came back after intermission and scored from six yards out. Fernando Trinidad, an exchange student from Argentina, kicked the first of three conversions.

Jack made a sensational 8-iron shot to the green on the first hole while having to stand in a trap and then proceeded to ram home a 12-foot putt for his first birdie.

He again escaped potential trouble on No. 6 with a magnificent blast shot out of a trap for another bird.

His longest putt of the day was his 22-footer for a bird on No. 13.

McKAY SCOFFS AT SPREAD

Oregon Just Duck Soup for Troy?

By LOEL SCHRADER

Oregon defensive back Yazoo Smith promised this week to play USC's split end Earl McCulloch "real tight" when they square off against each other today at 1:30 p.m. in the Coliseum.

"If he means it and we can get the ball to Earl, we're going to score a touchdown," pledged Trojan coach John McKay. "Yazoo is fast but he isn't as fast as Earl."

"Smith may be assuming McCulloch is just another track man wearing football clothes. That isn't true, however. Earl is a real football player, too." The Smith-McCulloch duel should be one of the most interesting aspects of today's game, which also will feature USC halfback O. J. Simpson and his 164-yard-per-game rushing act. The old grads coming back for Homecoming will get an eyeful when Simpson cuts loose against the Beavers, who are 1-5 on the season and 0-2 in the Pacific Eight.

USC, ranked No. 1 in the nation, is a 35-point favorite to hand Oregon its sixth setback, but the first since 1955 when Jess Hill's Trojans bombed the Ducks 42-15.

Oregon, as a matter of fact, has a three-game winning streak going against the Trojans. The Ducks won in 1956, '57 and '58 and today's game is the first meeting between the schools since then.

McKay, who saw his 1966 Trojans suffer a defeat in their seventh game of the season (10-7 at Miami), is taking no chances on this one. He wants badly to stay unbeaten.

"We're not taking anything for granted," he said. "Oregon is the No. 2 defensive team in our league. I think the Ducks gave Washington three first downs in the first half and they played Colorado (No. 3 in the nation) right off its feet."

"When teams do that, my inclination is to believe that sooner or later it will put everything together. Somebody will pay the price."

McKay doesn't like the 35-point spread.

"I've never had a team favored by that much," he said. "Has there ever been any team favored by that much or more?"

At any rate, the Trojan headmaster doesn't think any such disparity will evolve.

"I look for a low-scoring game," he said. And, he pointed out, not because Oregon is his alma mater either.

It's Fun Game for 'Giants'

Notre Dame, MSU in 'Nothing Bowl'

Associated Press

Notre Dame and Michigan State, a pair of battered and beaten giants, provide the action for the big tube Saturday, but followers of college football must look elsewhere for games that might affect the national ratings.

The No. 1 power, Southern California, is host to Oregon and heavily favored to score its seventh straight victory while second-ranked UCLA, looking to a possible title clash with the Trojans Nov. 18, is idle.

Unbeaten and third-ranked Colorado seeks to keep its Big Eight championship hopes alive by beating Oklahoma State. No. 4 Tennessee, buoyed by its victory last week over Alabama, rules a seven-point favorite over Louisiana State at Knoxville.

North Carolina State, Wyoming and Indiana are unbeaten major teams in the Top Ten seeking to extend their season streaks.

Fifth-ranked N.C. State, 6-0, is favored over Duke at Raleigh. Wyoming, No. 8 with a 6-0 record, has a date with Arizona State at Tempe while Indiana, No. 10 and 5-0, is the pick over Arizona at Tucson.

The Notre Dame-Michigan State game at South Bend, which originally figured to match two teams battling for the national championship, lost its luster when both suffered early reverses.

The game will be aired by ABC-TV with kickoff set at 11:15 a.m. (PDT).

The Fighting Irish were beaten by Purdue and Southern California while the Spartans from East Lansing lost to Houston, Southern Cal and Minnesota.

Neither will be at full strength. Michigan State will be without its No. 1 quarterback, Jimmy Raye, as well as six players who were temporarily suspended for breaking curfew regulations. The Irish suffered physical setbacks when Paul Snow, the tight end, came up with mononucleosis and defensive ace Mike Burgener underwent a leg operation.

49er Passes Expected to Rip Mustangs

By JIM McCORMACK Staff Writer

SAN LUIS OBISPO — Cal State Long Beach publicist Wayne Welk was reading the statistics of Billy Parks and Dave Merrill over the phone. The loud groans at the other end came from Cal Poly publicist Wayne Shaw.

The Mustangs host the 49ers today at 1:30 p.m., on the Cal Poly field in a homecoming game, and it is the third time in a month that the Mustangs must contend with a pass-oriented team.

It's a game in which one team will escape the CCAA cellar. The Mustangs are not too happy about their chances. They have fallen decisively against good passing teams.

San Francisco State rattled the Cal Poly secondary for a 31-14 victory. Fresno State (41-14) and Valley State (40-21) had similar success.

Now comes Merrill, who has completed 80 of 147 passes for 1,082 yards and 10 touchdowns, and Parks, who has caught 51 for 858 yards.

Merrill, Parks and Co. will test a Mustang secondary which has seen opponents complete 77 of 173 passes for 1,202 yards and 14 touchdowns, including five last week.

That leaves the door open for either Bob Stewart or Dennis Dummit. Last week Dummit set a school record for passing by hitting 20 of 31 passes for 324 yards and three touchdowns while the veteran Stewart sat out with the flu.

Dummit is the No. 2 passer in the conference behind El Camino's Dana Clyde and Donaldson is No. 3. O'Neill, who lettered at defensive back last year, has seen only limited action this term.

Viking defenders will have their hands full in Randy Whittitt, the No. 1 pass receiver in the state with 32 receptions. The Bucs also boast of one of the top rushers in the league in Gene Martin, who has 346 yards to his credit on 75 carries.

28 Parks Approved in State

From Our State Bureau

SACRAMENTO — The State Parks Commission Friday approved 28 park projects, including a 350-acre facility adjoining the Irvine campus of the University of California.

The commission, holding the final meeting in its 20-year history, forwarded its recommendations to Resources Agency administrator Norman B. Livermore Jr. and asked that they be included in the state's 1968-69 budget.

A LAW PASSED by the 1967 legislature provides that the Recreation and Park commissions, each with seven members, is to be combined into a nine-member Park and Recreation Commission effective next month.

Approved Friday was a $229,500 project to create a regional park from 350 acres donated for that purpose by the Irvine Co. To be known as University Regional Park, the project was substituted at Orange County's request for the originally proposed Sycamore Flat Regional Park.

Also approved was a $34,500 project to improve traffic control to O'Neill Regional Park in Orange County.

The commission gave conditional approval to a project to be known as Torrance Regional Park and another Orange County facility at Villa Park Dam.

THE TORRANCE project, to cost $197,000, was approved pending completion of lease agreements by the city. The Villa Park Dam project was OK'd on a condition that the county complete the acquisition of land.

The 51-acre Torrance park is bounded on the north by 186th Street, south by 190th Street, west by Hawthorne Boulevard and east by Prairie Avenue.

The commission also was given information on a number of park projects to be funded by the Federal Land and Water Conservation Program, including the $405,450 El Dorado Park Development in Long Beach.

Gunman Robs Crown Bowl Bar

A gunman held up the bar at the Crown Bowl, 1301 Artesia Blvd., and escaped with $337 Friday, Long Beach police reported.

Detectives said bartender Robert Burton was about to close when the robber walked in and ordered a drink. Before finishing, the man walked behind the bar and said, "Play it cool. Put the money in the sack. I've got a .45 automatic in my pocket."

The gunman took the cash and departed by the front door.

UNEXPECTED AND UNWELCOME CALLER

Residents of a Long Beach apartment building at 4625 S. Bellflower Blvd. received an unexpected caller Friday in the person of Mrs. Sophie Smith, 65, of 8638 Rose St., Bellflower. Police said Mrs. Smith lost control of her auto after a collision with a second car at the intersection of Bellflower and Arbor Road and crashed into the building. There were no injuries, officers said.

June Vote Possible for Westminster Parks

A $3.9-million bond issue for park acquisition and development in Westminster could conceivably go to the polls in June if City Council follows the recommendation of a citizens' advisory committee.

The committee, appointed by the councilmen in February to study the city's park and recreation needs, has urged a three-part bond package which would include:

—$2,342,000 for acquisition of 39 acres and development of 40 acres of neighborhood parks.

—$882,623 for acquisition and development of an additional 14 acres to Sigler Community Park, bringing total acreage there to 20.

—$771,377 for acquisition and development of approximately 20 acres for an 18-hole, three-par golf course. The committee recommended the city purchase surplus school-district land of the Huntington Beach Union High School District.

The committee also asked that council authorize that revenue from the golf course be used to supplement park and recreation operation and maintenance costs.

IN LINE with this, the 54 member group recommended city councilmen explore the feasibility of utilizing federal funds to supplement the bond financing.

"Unless we undertake the responsibility of meeting the challenge of the future," Committee Chairman Sam Guzzetta said, "We will be classified as a second-rate city as far as recreation and parks are concerned."

Beautiful Performance by Spanish Pianist

The encores, too, a Sonata in D of Padre Soler and Falla's "Ritual Fire Dance," were unconvincing, as if they had been chosen by an outside agent. After the incandescent joys of "The Maiden and the Nightingale" and "El Pelele," one was really ready for "Triana," "El Puerto" or "Evocation."

'The Knack' at City College Zeros In on Sex Hangups stands out. He plays Tom with equal dosages of subtle irony and unreserved madness, painting his walls white, nailing his chairs to the ceiling and playing his piano (which not too oddly is made out of mattress springs).

This excellent production is marred only by the production setup. Using the abbreviated main stage, the seating is badly staggered. For tonight's performance, sit either high or low; avoid the middle at all costs.

'The Knack' Zeros In

By BILL WASSERZIEHER

In recent years a remarkable number of fine British film comedies, often adapted from successful stage productions, have found profitable markets in America.

Perhaps the best of them is Ann Jellicoe's "The Knack," a rousing romp through the sexual side of life. The film version was directed by Richard Lester, who also did the surprisingly entertaining "Hard Day's Night" with the Beatles, and starred Rita Tushingham.

Now the play upon which the film was based is being presented as part of Long Beach City College's fall series of productions. It ends a three-night run this evening at 8:30.

For the uninitiated, "The Knack" concerns four people: three young men and a girl. Colin, the central figure, is for all purposes a jangled nerve-ending of sexual hangups. To put it simply, girls scare him.

Tolen, one of his boarders, is the diametric opposite. Incredibly successful with "birds" (i.e., girls), Tolen claims he "needs it five hours a day" — much to Colins' chagrin.

THE THIRD member of the household is hippie-type Tom, who has no problems with sex. He's as devoid of it as his room which he has painted white to reflect heat — for when the bomb drops.

The girl Nancy, provides the catalyst. Lost on the way to the YWCA, she wanders into Colins' house and finds herself unable to leave. Ellen Jacobson, as Nancy, is required to undergo a remarkable metamorphosis in the role she carries it off well.

Bill Griffith, a poor bewildered Colin, also proves adept. Despite some initial nervousness opening night, he comes on strongly as the archetypal example of the frustrated male.

Leo Knudson, the unscrupulous Tolen, plays his part with suitable aggressiveness. He postures, struts, leers and abuses all with one thing in mind being "cock of the walk."

Among these excellent performances, James Cole's stands out. He plays Tom with equal dosages of subtle irony and unreserved madness, painting his walls white, nailing his chairs to the ceiling and playing his piano (which not too oddly is made out of mattress springs).

This excellent production is marred only by the production setup. Using the abbreviated main stage, the seating is badly staggered. For tonight's performance, sit either high or low; avoid the middle at all costs.

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — State Controller Houston I. Flournoy said Friday 1,126 applicants will take the qualifying test for inheritance tax appraiser Nov. 4.

Of the total, 133 of the present 154 appraisers filed applications by the Oct. 9 deadline to take the examination.

Flournoy said incumbent appraisers who failed to apply to take the test will be dismissed. Any applicant who fails the exam will not be considered for an inheritance tax appraiser post.

PRINTED PATTERN

A black and white illustration of a woman with dark hair, wearing a dark, sleeveless top and a patterned skirt. She is looking down and slightly to her right. The pattern on the skirt consists of large, stylized leaves or floral motifs.

by Anne Adams

Have a ZING-ING holiday season in the popular, care-sleeve skimmer with high or scooped neckline. Sew it quickly in a blazing wool challis print or supple crepe.

Sixty-five cents in coins for each pattern — add 15 cents for each pattern for first-class mailing and special handling, and to Anna Adams.
